Ag Bill Veto Said Assured As Farm Prices Leap Up

Dynamite Artist Being Sought In Idaho City

7 Mystery Explosions Bring Night Patrols By Police, Residents

IDAHO FALLS (AP)—Residents of this northeastern Idaho city have joined police in night patrols against a dynamite artist police think may have caused seven mysterious explosions.

Volunteers turned out to help the police after a 24-year-old mother was injured Thursday night when a dynamite bomb exploded in her car.

Mrs. Roene Gasser suffered a fractured pelvis, burns on both legs and lacerations. Her 15-month-old son, Ralph, escaped injury. About the same time, another bomb blew the top off a car a few blocks away.

Police think the well-fused bombs may have been set by an insane but skillful bomb artist. Five other blasts rattled windows, chipped pavement, and damaged two other cars Wednesday night.

"WHOEVER planted the dynamite knew what they were doing," said Police Chief F. G. Perrin. "We have to assume that whoever is responsible is demented."

He said a Civil Defense explosives expert was coming here from Seattle, Wash., to study the debris.

Three FBI men are helping because one of the damaged cars was a government vehicle. Citizens have posted nearly $1,000 in rewards for capture of the bomber.

Chief Perrin said officers think the bomb-wave may have been touched off by the death of Arthur D. Johnson, 24, blown to bits in his car last weekend by two cases of dynamite.

Authorities ruled his death was suicide and Perrin said that explosion has not been connected with the other blasts.

But he said police were checking a "couple of other theories that I can't divulge just yet."

Ex-Convict Accused in Extortion Plot

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland police are investigating an alleged extortion plot in which a lawyer says he paid money to a man under threat of death to the lawyer and his family.

In connection with the alleged plot, three detectives surrounded Dale Martin Hite, 41, on busy Euclid Avenue and arrested him Friday.

Hite, identified by police as a Canton ex-convict, was carrying a loaded .38 caliber revolver and $250 which he allegedly received minutes earlier from lawyer William Polatek, 37.

Police charged Hite with armed robbery on an affidavit signed by Polatek, who lives in suburban Lakewood.

The lawyer said that since last November he has given Hite a total of $14,500. He figured in the news recently as executor of the million dollar estate of Miss Hazel Kingsborough, former school principal.

Hite refused to make a statement to police.

Reuther Says Labor Probe Is 'Loaded with Politics'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Walter Reuther, primed for a third day of verbal dueling with Senate rackety probers, said today the inquiry into the marathon Kohler strike is "really a disgrace."

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the special Senate committee called an unusual Saturday session in an effort to conclude Reuther's testimony and wind up the month-long investigation of violence in the Kohler dispute.

Reuther is president of the United Auto Workers which nearly four years ago went on strike against the Kohler Co., a Wisconsin maker of plumbing fixtures.

He has conceded that some UAW members engaged in violence, but he said the violence was provoked by the company.

McClellan said he plans to let the sometimes angry sparring between Reuther and Sens. Goldwater (R-Ariz) and Curtis (R-Neb) run "to the end of the day or the end of the hearing, whichever comes first."

Reuther said in advance of today's session that the whole inquiry, in his words, is loaded with politics.

"This is really a disgrace," he told newsmen.

Reuther said it is "a lot of nonsense," for senators to devote time to the Kohler case while Congress is trying to solve the problems of more than five million unemployed, the farm issue and "the Communist threat."

The even-tempered tone of Reuther's testimony ended suddenly Friday when he accused Goldwater of attempting a "smear."

Goldwater had produced a picture purportedly showing Jess Ferrazza, administrative assistant to the UAW's secretary treasurer Emil Mazey, and three others beating up a man during the 1941 Ford strike in Detroit.

Reuther denounced it as "an isolated picture." It didn't show UAW members were fighting "a defensive battle" against gangsters, he said, adding that this was harking back to an era when Harry Bennett, then head of the Ford plant police, was using "thousands of gangsters."

"They beat us up," Reuther said. "The police wouldn't protect us... We had to defend ourselves. Sure that was wrong. But how did we get into that sort of thing?"

The answer, he continued, was that Bennett had the police "in his vest pocket" and that gangsters were beating and actually killing UAW members.

Reuther said he saw four workers beaten because they protested when a man was "killed in the Ford plant."

"You get a picture of Walter Reuther beating someone and I'll get a dozen of Walter Reuther being beaten," the UAW leader said.

Reuther added that Mrs. Edsel Ford and others in the Ford family got rid of Bennett. "Thank God" for that, he added.

After listening to Reuther, Goldwater cut in and said: "I think you're right. Let's get up to date."

At another point, Reuther accused Curtis of "making excuses" for the Kohler firm. He told Curtis: "You cover up whenever they get their foot in their mouth."

4 Pct. Jump Is Recorded In Mid-March

Cost to Farm Operator Climbs by 1 Pct. During Month Period

WASHINGTON (AP)—An upward leap of farm prices appeared likely today to assure a veto of legislation designed to prevent a drop in farm price supports.

The Agriculture Department reported late Friday that average prices of farm products jumped 4 per cent in the month ended March 15. However, part of the gain was offset by a 1 per cent advance, to a new record, in prices paid by farmers for goods and services.

This was the third straight monthly rise for farm prices which for a long time were in the doldrums. It also was the sharpest increase for any month since February 1951. And it brought farm prices to within 1 1/2 per cent of the level when the Eisenhower administration took over in 1953. At one stage, the level was down about 10 per cent.

The new farm price report came as farm leaders in Congress were pressuring President Eisenhower to sign a bill to freeze price props at not less than 1957 levels for a year.

"The WHITE House said Friday that Eisenhower probably will not act on the bill before next week. The measure would cancel dairy price support cuts which would become effective next Tuesday and bar any reduction in supports for some other commodities.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has urged veto of the freeze bill. He said continued high price props would aggravate overproduction and make it harder to sell farm products.

Benson hailed the March price surge as "highly gratifying." While conceding it is partly seasonal, Benson said it is "evidence of the underlying strength of the farm segment of our national economy."

Most farm leaders said the price advance would not last long. Sens. Carlson (R-Kan) and Young (R-ND) said the increase did not justify a veto. They attributed the sharp price rise mainly to weather conditions.

Carlson and Young were among Republican senators who went to the White House Friday (before the price report came out) to urge Eisenhower not to veto the freeze bill. Many Democrats also have appealed to Eisenhower to sign the bill.

The measure passed both Senate and House by sizable majorities, but the margins were far short of the two-thirds necessary to override a veto. Many Republicans in Congress have voiced concern that a veto of the bill would cost the GOP heavily in the fall elections.

Cancer Group Sets Kickoff For Monday

A kick-off meeting to signal the start of the Cancer Fund Drive here will be held in Pickaway County Common Pleas Courtroom at 8 p. m. Monday. All interested persons are invited to attend.

George Kienzle, director of public relations at Ohio State University and a professor in the school of journalism, will be guest speaker. Pickaway County Common Pleas Judge William Ammer also will deliver an address.

Prof. Kienzle will discuss the Cancer Drive on a state and national basis. Judge Ammer will speak on the local aspects of the drive and how it benefits this area.

Activity will center around organizing the county and townships into teams and committees which will head the drive here. The groups to be organized also will handle cancer cases where help is needed for treatment.

Additional information on the local drive may be obtained from Mrs. Karl Johnson at the First Methodist Church. Her phone number is 997.

Canada Awaits Poll Monday

Conservatives Picked To Win Experts

OTTAWA (AP)—One of Canada's stormiest political campaigns ends today with the Conservative party of Prime Minister John Diefenbaker strongly favored to win Monday's parliamentary election.

Almost all the newsmen who have traveled with the leading candidates predict the Conservatives will win a clear majority of the 265 seats in Commons.

Public opinion surveys also report the Conservatives have gained strength since they barely ousted the Liberal's last June and ended their 22-year rule.

Liberal leader Lester B. Pearson, however, maintains that his party will win. And Liberals point out that all the polls were wrong in last summer's upset.

Pearson, Canada's former foreign secretary, has counted heavily on the recession to help swing the country back to the Liberals. He has accused the Conservatives of failing to meet the situation vigorously.

PEARSON FRIDAY described the government's proposed $1.1 billion public works program to counter the recession as "one of the phonest things ever perpetrated on the Canadian electorate."

The Liberal leader has proposed a $400 million tax cut giving Canadians a six-week holiday from taxes this summer as the best way to pep up the economy.

If he wins Diefenbaker is expected to push a campaign to divert to Britain a larger share of Canadian trade with the U.S.

Friday night he referred to a report that Ford of Canada had refused to ship 1,000 cars to Red China because the U.S. parent company had vetoed the sale under State Department policy. "We intend to have that matter fully investigated," he said.

Judge Elmer D. Doyle so declared in the pre-divorce hearing of the Lawrence S. Kriegers. Both Kriegers wanted custody of Gigh, a toy French poodle.

"I think the dog should be with the children," the court ruled, granting Mrs. Krieger custody of the dog along with two small children pending divorce hearings.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Electric traffic signals were put back in use at the busy intersection of Clayton and Hanley roads for the first time in 16 years.

The idea was to smooth the flow of traffic, but the result was chaotic. After an hour of horn-toting confusion, police turned off the signals to untangle traffic snarls.

Quick Action by Area Officers Leads to Arrest in Car Theft

Quick action and coordination last night by three area law enforcement agencies brought about the apprehension of a man accused of auto theft and possibly other violations. The arrest was made in less than an hour and approximately 20 miles from the scene of the theft.

Claude Godby, 21, of 116 Pinckney St., apparently didn't have time to count his loot before State Patrolman R. A. Travis, Ross County Post 71, arrested him for auto theft and possible grand larceny.

Godby was released last week from the Pickaway County jail after serving time for charges of carrying a concealed weapon and assault and battery on his wife.

City police said Godby, took an automobile belonging to Donald Watson, 329 Watt St., between 5:30 and 6 p. m. yesterday. The auto was parked in front of 157 W. Main St.

IN THE automobile were checks amounting to over $10,000 in payment of bills by W. J. Weaver and Son, Wholesalers, 126 N. Court St. There also was a locked strong box belonging to Guernsey Dairy, N. Court St., with over $400 in checks and cash.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson had stopped to do their weekly shopping before mailing the checks. When they returned from shopping they noticed their car was gone and immediately reported it to the Circleville Police Department.

City Police quickly put an alert on the air which was picked up by Chillicothe Ohio Patrol. Also hearing the alert was Ross County Ohio State Patrol Auxiliary, Glenn Morris, who was attending an auxiliary meeting.

On his way home on Route 104, Morris spotted the stolen automobile and notified Patrolman Travis who was patrolling Route 23. Travis sped to Route 104 and apprehended Godby near the Chillicothe Reformatory.

Lawmen said Godby opened the car's boot and retrieved a tire wrench forcing open the cash box. When he was stopped by Patrolman Travis, the checks belonging to both Weaver and Guernsey Dairy were gone. Cash totaling $225.15 were in Godby's pockets, Patrolman Travis said.

This is the second automobile stolen in two days on W. Main St. Police said both car owners had left their keys in the ignition.

Godby entered a plea of guilty to a charge of auto theft when arraigned in Circleville Municipal Court late this morning.

DAYTON (AP)—Dayton's city bus problems appear solved with agreements that end the threat to curtail service and a possible strike.

The city will allow the Dayton City Transit Co. to charge a straight 15-cent cash fare, replacing 12 1/2-cent tokens.

The possible strike of the Railway and Motor Coach Operators Union was averted Friday when the utility reached an agreement on a new contract. It provides workers with a graduated 10-cent-an-hour increase and additional fringe benefits.

Wife Bait Trap; Youngstown Swindle Aide Is Captured

DAYTON (AP)—A trap baited by his wife ended the three-month flight of Paul E. Shade, wanted in the $250,000 Youngstown insurance swindle.

The 31-year-old Shade, termed by police a key man in the alleged fraud ring in which 15 persons have been implicated, was captured at gunpoint at The Crossroads of America Motel in nearby Vandalia Friday night.

His wife's price for trapping him: A one-hour reunion along with the couple's two children.

"I wanted the kids to see him not behind bars," she said.

Taken to the Vandalia jail, Shade said he had intended to turn himself in anyway.

Shade escaped one police trap in Houston, Tex., Feb. 21 when John J. Tobin Jr., identified by Youngstown police as the ringleader in the alleged fraud, was captured in an apartment where the two had been living.

IN ADDITION to Tobin, who has been charged with embezzlement, and Shade, accused of aiding and abetting the alleged swindle, 13 others have been arrested and charged in connection with the phoney claims operation.

Ross County Crash Kills LAFB Airman

A Circleville woman was involved in a fatal accident early last night in which a Lockheed Air Force Base Airman was killed, according to Ohio State Patrol Post 71, Ross County.

Patrolmen said Mrs. Alice Sensenbrenner, 51, 313 E. Mound St., crashed into the rear of a motorcycle driven by Jay S. Williams, 42, whose home was Route 1, Ottawa. He was killed instantly.

The accident was at 7:22 p. m., five miles north of Chillicothe on Route 23. Both vehicles were northbound. Mrs. Sensenbrenner stated that she didn't see the motorcycle until striking it.

Williams was thrown from the motorcycle and suffered lacerations of the forehead and tongue and a broken neck, which was listed as the cause of death. Dr. C. L. Leggett, Ross County Coroner, pronounced Williams dead at the scene.

ACCOMPANYING Mrs. Sensenbrenner in the automobile was her son, Robert Sensenbrenner, 23, his wife, Carolyn, 22, and their son, David, age one, of Chillicothe.

Patrolmen said Mrs. Sensenbrenner was cited for failure to stop within an assured clear distance ahead. Williams' body was removed to the Ware Funeral Home, Chillicothe.

Expectant Mother Says Holdup Tried To Cover Bad Check

ADDISON, Mich. (AP) — A young expectant mother who told police she robbed a bank to cover a bad check was held for investigation of unarmed robbery.

State Trooper Ben Benites said Mrs. Dorothy Foley, 28, of nearby Cement City, told him she robbed the local branch of Adrian Commercial Savings Bank of $430 Friday.

He said the woman told him the money was to be used to cover a bad check she had written.

Benites quoted Mrs. Foley as saying she had been given until 1 p. m. Friday to get the money "or face the consequences."

The woman said she was on her way to make good the check when she was stopped at a road block 23 minutes after the robbery. The trooper said he did not know who had given Mrs. Foley the ultimatum on the check.

was parked in front of 157 W. Main St.

IN THE automobile were checks amounting to over $10,000 in payment of bills by W. J. Weaver and Son, Wholesalers, 126 N. Court St. There also was a locked strong box belonging to Guernsey Dairy, N. Court St., with over $400 in checks and cash.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson had stopped to do their weekly shopping before mailing the checks. When they returned from shopping they noticed their car was gone and immediately reported it to the Circleville Police Department.

City Police quickly put an alert on the air which was picked up by Chillicothe Ohio Patrol. Also hearing the alert was Ross County Ohio State Patrol Auxiliary, Glenn Morris, who was attending an auxiliary meeting.

On his way home on Route 104, Morris spotted the stolen automobile and notified Patrolman Travis who was patrolling Route 23. Travis sped to Route 104 and apprehended Godby near the Chillicothe Reformatory.

Lawmen said Godby opened the car's boot and retrieved a tire wrench forcing open the cash box. When he was stopped by Patrolman Travis, the checks belonging to both Weaver and Guernsey Dairy were gone. Cash totaling $225.15 were in Godby's pockets, Patrolman Travis said.

This is the second automobile stolen in two days on W. Main St. Police said both car owners had left their keys in the ignition.

Godby entered a plea of guilty to a charge of auto theft when arraigned in Circleville Municipal Court late this morning.

Dayton Solving Bus Problems

DAYTON (AP) — Dayton's city bus problems appear solved with agreements that end the threat to strike service and a possible curtail.

The city will allow the Dayton City Transit Co. to charge a straight 15-cent cash fare, replacing 12½-cent tokens.

The possible strike of the Railway and Motor Coach Operators Union was averted Friday when the utility reached an agreement on a new contract. It provides workers with a graduated 10-cent-an-hour increase and additional fringe benefits.

Pint-Size Survey Not 100 Proof

NEW YORK (AP) — Several estimable gentlemen in these parts — all bartenders — report that there has been a marked change recently in women's drinking habits.

More are switching to male-type refreshments at the bar, they say.

More and more, also, are standing toe to toe with the brethren and matching them quaff for quaff.

While the findings of this pint-size survey are not guaranteed to be 100 proof, they were as follows:

The average bartender has a repertoire of about 85 different types of drinks. Of these, some 50 have been ordered with regularity in the past.

Menfolk usually ask for only about five or six of these: Standard and tested old standbys like whisky and soda, water, on-the-rocks, etc.

It used to be that the drinking members of the fairer sex favored the other 44 or 45 — such fancy cocktail fripperies as pink ladies, orange, blossoms, whisky sours.

But, almost as quickly as a popping champagne cork, the bartenders found women's tastes were changing. They were asking for the same things as men. At the same time they were downing just as much, instead of sipping one or two for hours.

Dynamite Artist Being Sought In Idaho City

7 Mystery Explosions Bring Night Patrols By Police, Residents

IDAHO FALLS (AP) — Residents of this northeastern Idaho city have joined police in night patrols against a dynamite artist police think may have caused seven mysterious explosions.

Volunteers turned out to help the police after a 24-year-old mother was injured Thursday night when a dynamite bomb exploded in her car.

Mrs. Roene Gasser suffered a fractured pelvis, burns on both legs and lacerations. Her 15-month-old son, Ralph, escaped injury. About the same time, another bomb blew the top off a car a few blocks away.

Police think the well-fused bombs may have been set by an insane but skillful bomb artist. Five other blasts rattled windows, chipped pavement, and damaged two other cars Wednesday night.

"WHOEVER planted the dynamite knew what they were doing," said Police Chief F. G. Perrin. "We have to assume that whoever is responsible is demented."

He said a Civil Defense explosives expert was coming here from Seattle, Wash., to study the debris.

Three FBI men are helping because one of the damaged cars was a government vehicle.

Citizens have posted nearly $1,000 in rewards for capture of the bomber.

Chief Perrin said officers think the bomb-wave may have been touched off by the death of Arthur D. Johnson, 24, blown to bits in his car last weekend by two cases of dynamite.

Authorities ruled his death was suicide and Perrin said that explosion has not been connected with the other blasts.

But he said police were checking a "couple of other theories that I can't divulge just yet."

Ex-Convict Accused in Extortion Plot

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland police are investigating an alleged extortion plot in which a lawyer says he paid money to a man under threat of death to the lawyer and his family.

In connection with the alleged plot, three detectives surrounded Dale Martin Hite, 41, on busy Euclid Avenue and arrested him Friday.

Hite, identified by police as a Canton ex-convict, was carrying a .38 caliber revolver and $250 which he allegedly received minutes earlier from lawyer William Polatsek, 37.

Police charged Hite with armed robbery on an affidavit signed by Polatsek, who lives in suburban Lakewood.

The lawyer said that since last November he has given Hite a total of $1,450. He figured in the news recently as executor of the million dollar estate of Miss Hazel Kingsborough, former school principal.

Hite refused to make a statement to police.

Reuther Says Labor Probe Is 'Loaded with Politics'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Reuther, primed for a third day of verbal dueling with Senate rackety probers, said today the inquiry into the marathon Kohler strike is "really a disgrace."

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the special Senate committee called an unusual Saturday session in an effort to conclude Reuther's testimony and wind up the month-long investigation of violence in the Kohler dispute.

Reuther is president of the United Auto Workers which nearly four years ago went on strike against the Kohler Co., a Wisconsin maker of plumbing fixtures. He has conceded that some UAW members engaged in violence, but he said the violence was provoked by the company.

McClellan said he plans to let the sometimes angry sparring between Reuther and Sens. Goldwater (R-Ariz) and Curtis (R-Neb) run "to the end of the day or the end of the hearing, whichever comes first."

Reuther said in advance of today's session that the whole inquiry, in his words, is loaded with politics.

"This is really a disgrace," he told newsmen.

Reuther said it is "a lot of nonsense," for senators to devote time to the Kohler case while Congress is trying to solve the problems of more than five million unemployed, the farm issue and "the Communist threat."

The even-tempered tone of Reuther's testimony ended suddenly Friday when he accused Goldwater of attempting a "smear."

Goldwater had produced a picture purportedly showing Jess Ferrazza, administrative assistant to the UAW's secretary treasurer Emil Mazey, and three others beating up a man during the 1941 Ford strike in Detroit.

Reuther denounced it as "an isolated picture." It didn't show UAW members were fighting "a defensive battle" against gangsters, he said, adding that this was harking back to an era when Harry Bennett, then head of the Ford plant police, was using "thousands of gangsters."

"They beat us up," Reuther said. "The police wouldn't protect us. . . . We had to defend ourselves. Sure that was wrong. But how did we get into that sort of thing?"

The answer, he continued, was that Bennett had the police "in his vest pocket" and that gangsters were beating and actually killing UAW members.

Reuther said he saw four workers beaten because they protested when a man was "killed in the Ford plant."

"You get a picture of Walter Reuther beating someone and I'll get a dozen of Walter Reuther being beaten," the UAW leader said.

Reuther added that Mrs. Edsel Ford and others in the Ford family got rid of Bennett. "Thank God" for that, he added.

After listening to Reuther, Goldwater cut in and said: "I think you're right. Let's get up to date."

At another point, Reuther accused Curtis of "making excuses" for the Kohler firm. He told Curtis: "You cover up whenever they get their foot in your mouth."

4 Pct. Jump Is Recorded In Mid-March

Cost to Farm Operator Climbs by 1 Pct. During Month Period

WASHINGTON (AP) — An upward leap of farm prices appeared likely today to assure a veto of legislation designed to prevent a drop in farm price supports.

The Agriculture Department reported late Friday that average prices of farm products jumped 4 per cent in the month ended March 15. However, part of the gain was offset by a 1 per cent advance, to a new record, in prices paid by farmers for goods and services.

This was the third straight monthly rise for farm prices which for a long time were in the doldrums. It also was the sharp increase for any month since February 1951. And it brought farm prices to within 1½ per cent of the level when the Eisenhower administration took over in 1953.

At one stage, the level was down about 10 per cent.

The new farm price report came as farm leaders in Congress were pressuring President Eisenhower to sign a bill to freeze price props at not less than 1957 levels for a year.

THE WHITE House said Friday that Eisenhower probably will not act on the bill before next week.

The measure would cancel dairy price support cuts which would become effective next Tuesday and bar any reduction in supports for some other commodities.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has urged veto of the freeze bill. He said continued high price props would aggravate overproduction and make it harder to sell farm products.

Benson hailed the March price surge as "highly gratifying." While conceding it is partly seasonal, Benson said it is "evidence of the underlying strength of the farm segment of our national economy."

Most farm leaders said the price advance would not last long. Sens. Carlson (R-Kan) and Young (R-Ind) said the increase did not justify a veto. They attributed the sharp rise mainly to weather conditions.

Carlson and Young were among Republican senators who went to the White House Friday (before the price report came out) to urge Eisenhower not to veto the freeze bill. Many Democrats also have appealed to Eisenhower to sign the bill.

The measure passed both Senate and House by sizable majorities, but the margins were far short of the two-thirds necessary to override a veto. Many Republicans in Congress have voiced concern that a veto of the bill would cost the GOP heavily in the fall elections.

Member Drive Heads into Final Stretch

The Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce membership drive heads into its stretch drive today. The goal is 100 new members.

Three competing teams have been battling it out for the last week in an effort to see which can bring in the most new blood.

Indications are that Ed Webb's Maverick team is leading in the race but Eldred Parson's Round-towners and Don Russell's Gophers are still in the running.

Final tabulations on the drive probably will be completed tonight. The campaign is under the direction of D. E. McDonald, general chairman of the chamber membership committee.

The winning team will be treated to a dinner sponsored by the third placers. The second place team will be responsible for presenting the program during the meal.

4 Youths Admit Thefts in 3 Areas

COLUMBUS (AP)—Sheriff's deputies say four youths have admitted taking 16 saddles and bridles, several hundred dollars worth of grain and corn, livestock and gasoline from farms and riding clubs in Franklin, Delaware and Hocking counties.

Held for investigation of grand larceny are Leroy Dupier, 20, of Commercial Point; Charles Thompson, 18, of Delaware County; a 17-year-old from Galena and a 15-year-old who officers say "has no real home."

Formal Murder Charge Filed Against Boy, 12

WOODWARD, Okla. (AP)—A murder charge has been lodged against 12-year-old Robert Smith in the shooting of Floyd Blair last Sunday.

Robert and his brother David, 10, were together when Blair was shot at his grocery store. Police said the boys had intended to commit robbery.

David was ordered to a ranch for boys from broken homes. Robert was held in jail pending arraignment.

First Ace

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col. (AP)—Colorado Springs this year opened a new golf course, Valley Hi Country Club. So who shot the first hole-in-one on the spanking new 200-yard second hole? A Denver golfer, Harry Bossen, using a No. 4 iron. And Bossen made the ace in January, to boot.

3 Lawmen Get Penalties in Dayton Probe

DAYTON (AP)—Three Montgomery County law officers have been penalized in the wake of an FBI investigation at the county jail here.

The FBI earlier this month completed an investigation into an alleged civil rights violation. FBI agents did not disclose any details but reports circulated that the investigation arose from the alleged mistreatment of a New Castle, Ind., youth held for burglary.

Sheriff Bernard L. Keiter said Friday that Detective Merrill Smith was reduced in rank to deputy, returned to the uniformed section and suspended for five days. Deputy Joe Swigert also drew a five-day suspension, and Detective Harlan Grooms was given a reprimand, Keiter said.

LI. Robert C. Beckett, chief of the county's detective division, announced his resignation a week ago Friday. He gave no reason other than long working hours.

Keiter said in a statement that "certain deputies, in their conscientious efforts to bring law violators to justice, were too aggressive at times." He added, however, that there has been "no evidence of physical brutality" in the jail.

Ex-Red Soldier Reports On Soviet Rocket Failures

LIVERPOOL, England (AP)—A former Red Army corporal claims he witnessed rocket disasters costing scores of lives before the Soviet Union launched Sputnik I last Oct. 4.

Writing in the Liverpool Daily Post, Seriosha Asafjev said one long-range ballistic missile crashed and wiped out 130 of the 136 inhabitants of a small Arctic fishing village.

Asafjev said the missile, scheduled to come down 600 miles away in the Kara Sea, changed course a few seconds after launching. The village's wooden houses and small ships in its harbor were obliterated by exploding rocket fuel.

"All further tests with this type of rocket were immediately suspended on orders from Moscow," said Asafjev. "A committee of high-ranking officials arrived next day, interrogated everyone and arrested several people."

NUMEROUS unofficial reports have circulated in the West before this of Soviet rocket failures. One report said that a large missile believed designed to launch a larger earth satellite than the 1,120-pound Sputnik II exploded just before Christmas.

Asafjev claimed he helped guard Russian missile testing grounds in eastern Siberia before escaping to the West. He did not mention in the article how he escaped.

He said a 25-foot guided missile called the Znamja (the Flag) once crashed out of control and "destroyed more than 20 trucks, killed eight technicians and soldiers and injured four others."

Asafjev claimed he first saw rocket experiments about 100 miles from Olekminsk in eastern Siberia.

Other secret tests were held about 50 miles north of the Arctic Circle near Ust-Zyma on the European side of the Soviet Union, the article said.

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev will disclose the makeup of his new government Monday, it was announced today before the Council of the Union, one of Russia's two houses of parliament.

Monday's joint session of the two houses thus is expected to spell out Nikolai Bulganin's political future and also may reveal a Kremlin decision to end Soviet H-bomb tests without waiting for the United States and Britain.

Khrushchev led the Presidium members into today's session, which continued to discuss the Communist party leader's agricultural plans. Bulganin was not present.

When Bulganin resigned as premier Thursday and was replaced by Khrushchev, he submitted the resignation of the entire Council of Ministers. Observers wondered whether the new list to be announced by Khrushchev would give Bulganin a place in the government, possibly deputy premier.

Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko was scheduled to report on nuclear tests. An announcement that Russia was stopping its own tests would put pressure on the other atomic powers to do the same.

Deaths AND FUNERALS

C. ALBERT COOK
Relatives in the Circleville area have received word of the death of C. Albert Cook, Fort Worth, Tex., and formerly of Williamsport.

Mr. Cook was born August 20, 1879, a son of the late Charles A. and Barbara Dorn Cook. His earlier years were spent in Ohio before taking up residence in Texas where he spent the greater part of his life.

He was twice married. In 1908 he was married to the former Miss Rhea Traylor, Edna, Tex. To this union was born five children, Charles A., Weatherford, Tex.; Walter R. of Edna; Mrs. Richard DeVold of Midland and Mrs. Robert Dulaney of San Antonio, Tex. Following a lengthy illness the wife died in 1927.

In 1936 Mr. Cook married the former Miss Ethel Pickard, Athens, Tex. To this union was born one son, C. Albert Cook Jr. He also leaves four grandchildren.

His only other close survivor is a niece, Mrs. Edna H. Newhouse, Williamsport. Several distant relatives in the Circleville area survive.

Mr. Cook retired from the railroad in 1945. He had been in failing health for the last three years, and was seriously ill during the last year.

Funeral services were held at Crowder Crooka Chapel in Fort Worth, Tex. Burial was in Greenlawn Cemetery there. Masonic funeral services were held at the graveside.

MRS. EVA LEIST
Mrs. Eva Leist, 95, South Bloomfield, widow of Charles Leist, died yesterday in the Audrey's Nursing Home, S. Scioto St.

She was born Feb. 5, 1863 in Wyandott County the daughter of James and Matilda Saxton Shay.

Survivors include a son, Roy, Columbus; a daughter, Mrs. Jack Philo, Route 2, Ashville; eight grandchildren; 18 great grandchildren; two great great grandchildren.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday in the Deffenbaugh Funeral Home with the Rev. L. S. Metzler officiating. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery.

Friends may call after 1 p. m. Sunday in the funeral home.

MARY O. YOUNG
Mrs. Mary O. Young, 89, mother of Mrs. G. Guy Campbell, S. Court St., died Friday afternoon in Pittsboro, Ind.

Funeral services will be held in the Christian Church, Pittsboro, Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Campbell, on an Ohio Garden Bus tour of the southern states, was contacted in New Orleans and left immediately for Pittsboro.

ROBERT JENNINGS
Robert Jennings, son of the late Harry and Sally Palm Jennings, died Wednesday at his home in Miami, Fla.

Mr. Jennings was a former resident of Circleville. He is survived by his wife and one daughter. Burial was Friday in Miami.

U.S. Education Said Boosted By Sputniks

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Sputniks have done more good for education in this country than have all the critics, says Dr. Harold C. Hunt, professor at Harvard.

The internationally known educator, among the early arrivals for today's opening of the regional convention of the American Assn. of School Administrators, said the current interest in and criticism of education is all to the good.

If American education is to be improved, he said, it will be the result of greater interest and greater understanding.

But Dr. Hunt remarked that in a climate of hysteria, people of this country are in danger of forgetting the achievements of our educational system.

"Before we become too critical we should remind ourselves that American education has produced all of the fruits that we enjoy," he said.

These are not only materialistic but include such benefits as the Salk vaccine and sulfa drugs, he added.

A former undersecretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Dr. Hunt is to receive the American Education Award for 1958 Tuesday at the final conference of the association.

Member Drive Heads into Final Stretch

The Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce membership drive heads into its stretch today. The goal is 100 new members. Three competing teams have been battling it out for the last week in an effort to see which can bring in the most new blood.

Indications are that Ed Webb's Maverick team is leading in the race but Eldred Parson's Round-towners and Don Russell's Gophers are still in the running. Final tabulations on the drive probably will be completed tonight. The campaign is under the direction of D. E. McDonald, general chairman of the chamber membership committee.

The winning team will be treated to a dinner sponsored by the third place team. The second place team will be responsible for presenting the program during the meal.

4 Youths Admit Thefts in 3 Areas

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Sheriff's deputies say four youths have admitted taking 16 saddles and bridles, several hundred dollars worth of grain and corn, livestock and gasoline from farms and riding clubs in Franklin, Delaware and Hocking counties.

Held for investigation of grand larceny are Leroy Dupier, 20, of Commercial Point; Charles Thompson, 18, of Delaware County; a 17-year-old from Galena and a 15-year-old who officers say "has no real home."

Formal Murder Charge Filed Against Boy, 12

WOODWARD, Okla. — A murder charge has been lodged against 12-year-old Robert Smith in the shooting of Floyd Blair last Sunday.

Robert and his brother David, 10, were together when Blair was shot at his grocery store. Police said the boys had intended to commit robbery.

David was ordered to a ranch for boys from broken homes. Robert was held in jail pending arraignment.

3 Lawmen Get Penalties in Dayton Probe

DAYTON, Ohio — Three Montgomery County law officers have been penalized in the wake of an FBI investigation at the county jail here.

The FBI earlier this month completed an investigation into an alleged civil rights violation. FBI agents did not disclose any details but reports circulated that the investigation arose from the alleged mistreatment of a New Castle, Ind., youth held for burglary.

Sheriff Bernard L. Keiter said Friday that Detective Merrill Smith was reduced in rank to deputy, returned to the uniformed section and suspended for five days. Deputy Joe Sweigert also drew a five-day suspension, and Detective Harlan Grooms was given a reprimand, Keiter said.

Lt. Robert C. Beckett, chief of the county's detective division, announced his resignation a week ago Friday. He gave no reason other than long working hours.

Keiter said in a statement that "certain deputies, in their conscientious efforts to bring law violators to justice, were too aggressive at times." He added, however, that there has been "no evidence of physical brutality" in the jail.

Ex-Red Soldier Reports On Soviet Rocket Failures

LIVERPOOL, England — A former Red Army corporal claims he witnessed rocket disasters costing scores of lives before the Soviet Union launched Sputnik I last Oct. 4.

Writing in the Liverpool Daily Post, Seriosha Asafjev said one long-range ballistic missile crashed and wiped out 130 of the 136 inhabitants of a small Arctic fishing village.

Asafjev said the missile, scheduled to come down 600 miles away in the Kara Sea, changed course a few seconds after launching. The village's wooden houses and small ships in its harbor were obliterated by exploding rocket fuel.

"All further tests with this type of rocket were immediately suspended on orders from Moscow," said Asafjev. "A committee of high-ranking officials arrived next day, interrogated everyone and arrested several people."

NUMEROUS unofficial reports have circulated in the West before this of Soviet rocket failures. One report said that a large missile believed designed to launch a larger earth satellite than the 1,120-pound Sputnik II exploded just before Christmas.

Absent Car Owner Is Ruled Guilty In Traffic Death

DETROIT, Mich. — A jury has convicted a car owner of involuntary manslaughter in a traffic death in which he personally was not involved.

William Marshall, 33, of suburban River Rouge, was accused of giving the keys to his car to Neil McClary, 19, of Lake Orion, last Feb. 4. Asst. Prosecutor Raymond J. Deryck said Marshall gave up his car keys knowing that McClary was intoxicated.

McClary and James Coldiron, 29, of nearby Taylor Township, were killed that day when their cars collided.

Marshall was tried under a state law stating that a person who gives the keys to his car to another known to be intoxicated can be held responsible. Sentencing was deferred.

Marching With King Jesus Is Sermon at First EUB

"Marching With King Jesus" has been chosen by the Rev. O. F. Gibbs for his Palm Sunday sermon to be delivered Sunday morning in First Evangelical United Brethren Church. The text is taken from the Gospel of St. Luke 19:38 "Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord."

In his introductory remarks the pastor will state, the King, at last, is come into his own. The week of the Passover has become Coronation week. Though crowned at last with thorns; though the cross became his throne—this was his time of triumph. Though it ended in pain and death, it was a conqueror's pain and a hero's death.

As a commander gives his life, leading his troops in battle and by his daring saves the day for his country and wins undying fame, so did the Captain of our Salvation ride through "the greatest week of history."

The pastor urges all to follow the people and their pathway of palms over which they led him so joyously that spring morning long ago.

Miss BonnaLee Meadows will preside at the console of the organ and play the following numbers: Prelude, "A Prayer," Offertory, "Canzonetta," and Postlude, "Marche Heroique," all by Stickles. The Fidelis Chorus, directed by Miss Lucille Kirkwood, will sing "Hallelujah to the King" by Landon.

The Chorus will enter the sanctuary from the rear singing the Processional Hymn, "Open the Gates of the Temple" by Knapp. Hymns to be sung by the congregation include: "Praise Him! Praise Him!", "Oh, for a Thousand Tongues to Sing," and "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

A special offering will be received for the trustee fund. Raymond Reichelderfer will assist the pastor in the worship service.

Sunday School in the children's department will convene in the service center at 9:30 a. m. with Miss Marjorie Francis, presiding. Church School in the youth and adult departments will meet following the worship service.

Nursery care will be provided for children up to four years old with Mrs. William Lockard and Mrs. William Stewart in charge. The Boy's and Girl's Fellowship will meet in the Service Center at 10:35 a. m. with Mrs. Howard Conley and Miss Nancy Jane Gibbs in charge.

Presbyterian

"Conviction Under the Law", is the theme for the 10:30 a. m. of worship Sunday morning at the Presbyterian Church. This draws to a close the series of sermons entitled, "A Lenten Scrutiny of Our Sins."

On Sunday, April 2, in the year A. D. 30, a Man rode into the city of Jerusalem on an ass. He carried with Him the whole burden of sins of our time, as well as all that men had committed since the time of Adam and Eve. We were all to be tried according to Law. This Man was our Representative. He was to take the conviction for us, and its consequence. We were on trial in Him, for our souls.

As He rode in, the die was cast. There was now no retreat. We, in Him, were doomed, doomed to conviction under the Law.

The Palm Sunday scripture lesson will be read by the Rev. Donald Mitchell from the Gospel according to St. Matthew chapter 21.

The Palm Sunday music will be sung by the Junior Choir, Mrs. Fred Tammany directing; and Miss Donna Mitchell, soprano. She will sing: "My Saviour Is My Lasting Joy," by Buxtehude.

At the organ, Mrs. Theodore L. Huston will play "Hosanna!" and "Alleluia", by the composers, Faulkes, and Novello. Also, "Hallelujah Chorus" from Beethoven's "Mount of Olives."

During the worship, the Sacrament of Baptism will be celebrated; new members will be received into the Christian Fellowship of the Church; and the members of the Catechism Class will confirm their vows and be received into full communion of the Church.

In the afternoon at 2 p. m., members of the Catechism Class will hold a brief conference with the pastor, in the Session Room.

Westminster Fellowship will meet in the Social Rooms at 2 p. m. to prepare for Parents Night supper and the Lenten Play: "Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil," by Stuart Walker.

I sat on the sands, watching the palm trees, the city silhouetted against the sky. And as I did, suddenly the city wasn't there any more. I saw only the palms.

It was like being transported to another time and place. I felt as if I were in old Jerusalem. It was the day when He was entering the city, and His devoted followers had strewn palm leaves in His path. In church, that morning, our minister had told us the story of Palm Sunday. Now I realized how much this message meant to me.

Watching the palms, I realized that all of us need help in understanding life's basic truths. We find that help in the Church. Then we can dwell upon what we have learned until it has full meaning for us . . . as Palm Sunday, now, has for me.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BRING A FRIEND TO CHURCH WITH YOU

Marching With King Jesus Is Sermon at First EUB

"Marching With King Jesus" has been chosen by the Rev. O. F. Gibbs for his Palm Sunday sermon to be delivered Sunday morning in First Evangelical United Brethren Church. The text is taken from the Gospel of St. Luke 19:38 "Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord."

In his introductory remarks the pastor will state, the King, at last, is come into his own. The week of the Passover has become Coronation week. Though crowned at last with thorns; though the cross became his throne--this was his time of triumph. Though it ended in pain and death, it was a conqueror's pain and a hero's death.

As a commander gives his life, leading his troops in battle and by his daring saves the day for his country and wins undying fame, so did the Captain of our Salvation ride through "the greatest week of history."

The pastor urges all to follow the people and their pathway of palms over which they led him so joyously that spring morning long ago.

Miss Bonnalene Meadows will preside at the console of the organ and play the following numbers: Prelude, "A Prayer", Offertory, "Canonetta", and Postlude, "Marche Heroique", all by Sticks. The Fidelis Chorus, directed by Miss Lucille Kirkwood, will sing "Hallelujah to the King" by Landon.

The Chorus will enter the sanctuary from the rear singing the Processional Hymn, "Open the Gates of the Temple" by Knapp. Hymns to be sung by the congregation include: "Praise Him! Praise Him!", "Oh, for a Thousand Tongues to Sing," and "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

A special offering will be received for the trustee fund. Raymond Reichelderfer will assist the pastor in the worship service.

Sunday School in the children's department will convene in the service center at 9:30 a. m. with Miss Marjorie Francis, presiding. Church School in the youth and adult departments will meet following the worship service.

Nursery care will be provided for children up to four years old with Mrs. William Lockard and Mrs. William Stewart in charge. The Boy's and Girl's Fellowship will meet in the Service Center at 10:35 a. m. with Mrs. Howard Conley and Miss Nancy Jane Gibbs in charge.

Presbyterian

"Conviction Under the Law", is the theme for the 10:30 a. m. of worship Sunday morning at the Presbyterian Church. This draws to a close the series of sermons entitled, "A Lenten Scrutiny of Our Sins."

On Sunday, April 2, in the year A. D. 30, a Man rode into the city of Jerusalem on an ass. He carried with Him the whole burden of sins of our time, as well as all that men had committed since the time of Adam and Eve. We were all to be tried according to Law. I sat on the sands, watching the palm trees, the city silhouetted against the sky. And as I did, suddenly the city wasn't there any more. I saw only the palms.

It was like being transported to another time and place. I felt as if I were in old Jerusalem. It was the day when He was entering the city, and His devoted followers had strewn palm leaves in His path. In church, that morning, our minister had told us the story of Palm Sunday. Now I realized how much this message meant to me.

Watching the palms, I realized that all of us need help in understanding life's basic truths. We find that help in the Church. Then we can dwell upon what we have learned until it has full meaning for us . . . as Palm Sunday, now, has for me.

Oil Import Cause Cutbacks

The ironic situation in which the American oil industry finds itself is illustrated by this paradox:

The flow of import oil has caused ever more drastic cutbacks in domestic production. These production reductions have become so severe that the administration is preparing to tighten its "voluntary" controls on oil imports.

Yet a further reduction in the "voluntary" quotas may stir a complete revolt by the importing companies, which have never liked these restrictions anyway and too often have disregarded them.

And that revolt in turn may bring a complete entrance by the federal government into the program, making quotas legally mandatory and not voluntary.

So the oil industry, which from top to bottom doesn't want federal interference, may have to turn to this as a last resort to solve its problems. American oilmen simply cannot compete against the immense production of cheap oil overseas, especially in the Middle East oil fields.

The question is asked: Why don't the importers go along with the voluntary quota system, knowing that if they continually flout it they will be saddled with real quotas?

The answer is that if they cut back too much they will anger the Arabian monarchs and sheiks who depend upon oil royalties for the splendid palaces, automobiles, and high living. There is then the danger that the oil fields will either be nationalized or the concessions given to other bidders—such as the Japanese or the Italians.

Hence the compulsion to "mine" the fields to retrieve as much of the original investment as possible before all too probable catastrophe strikes.

Uncle Sam Is Good Partner

Economic ideas these days are a dime a dozen. Many of them are spawned impulsively. Among them is one that has the support of Sen. Lyndon Johnson, Senate majority leader.

In considering the troubles of small business, it is proposed to drop the program of modest, short term government loans and make larger, longer term loans. But still another step is proposed. The government would provide ownership capital by purchasing some of the stock in small businesses.

This is sugar-coated, to be sure. Government capital would buy shares in small business and then slough them off gradually into a series of regional banks under private ownership.

But the probability is that, once government got into business ownership, it would expand its ownership and influence instead of shrinking them. It would be a short cut to socialism.

Some of the anti-monopoly Senators are high on the idea. They contend that by building up small business, the trend toward bigness in America can be slowed down.

At a Senate small business hearing last year business spokesmen said they needed tax incentives and relief from government record keeping most of all. It is doubtful if they envisioned Uncle Sam as a partner.

After they have thought the proposition through, it is equally doubtful if many of them will warm up to the idea.

Common Colds Costliest

When it comes to loss of man hours nothing can quite keep up with the common cold. Periodically scores of school pupils are absent because of respiratory troubles.

The peculiar thing is that nobody pays much attention to the inroads made by colds. One can imagine what a row would be raised if a similar number of pupils were out of schools or adults off the job on account of chickenpox, measles, mumps or scarlet fever.

Most sufferers from colds take a rather philosophical view of the matter. They treat themselves, take a few precautions and then decide the worst will be over in a few days. Industry has more or less adjusted itself to the cold. A certain number of persons are expected to be absent in spring, fall and winter as a result of the affliction.

Those seeking new fields of discovery have only to look at the common cold. It opens a mighty avenue of research to the scientist or physician who can pry out its secrets. The man who discovers how to prevent colds might not win the fame of Christopher Columbus, but he will cut a swath in world economics.

Oppressed peoples of Europe once settled in America. Now the oppressed over there would like another America, but there's none in sight.

What About Republicans?

Maine, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Connecticut, New York and many other states that historically have been regarded as Republican are now wholly or partially in the Democratic Column. While New York has a Democratic Governor, its two United States Senators have been elected as Republicans, but the general trend indicates a disintegration of the Republican Party which is not sufficiently different in perspective than the Democratic Party to excite the voters.

In New Jersey, the Republican Party is in the midst of a very interesting primary fight. About a year ago it was all set for Bernard Shanley, a White House secretary, to be nominated by the Republican Party in that state for United States Senator. Shanley, in due course, resigned his White House job and canvassed the state and it was believed that he was sure in.

Then Robert Morris came along to conduct a campaign that nobody would have believed possible. Morris had been counsel to the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee from which he resigned. Morris criticizes President Eisenhower, his policies, the White House cabal and in effect calls for a purification of the Republican Party. Whether Morris will be nominated or not, we shall know after Primary Day, but he has stirred up the party in New Jersey, has developed an unanticipated receptivity for his ideas and has put up an old-fashioned type of campaign which goes right down to the grass roots.

If Morris should win the New Jersey nomination, or if he should come off second in a three-cornered fight (the other candidate being Representative Robert W. Keane), he will have established a leadership for Right Wing Republican in New Jersey. This can have widespread repercussions everywhere because whereas most club-house or professional Republicans have been pro-Eisenhower in their expressions of adulation, they have been Taftists in their party outlook. Many of them are very weary of the so-called White House crowd; they fear that the current recession can be as destructive of their party as the 1929 one was.

For a while, it was assumed that Nelson Rockefeller would be the Republican candidate for Governor of New York. It is now being suggested that Nelson Rockefeller would prefer to run for United States Senator in place of Irving Ives, the present incumbent. As Rockefeller represents a "gray trail" for the professional politicians, his wishes will not be ignored, although I can encounter no pros who believe that he can, in 1958, be elected to either position. Should Mayor Robert Wagner of New York City run for Senator on the Democratic ticket, it is regarded as likely that he will be elected.

Another possibility might be former Postmaster General Jim Farley who is one of the most beloved personalities in the state without regard to party affiliation. At any rate, if Nelson Rockefeller does run for the United States Senate, he will come up against tough opposition which will be aggravated by economic conditions if the recession continues.

Besides, to most Republicans, Nelson Rockefeller is a maver-

By George Sokolsky

ick. He has served in the Roosevelt and Truman Administrations in Washington as well as in the Eisenhower Administration. He has always been associated with Mrs. Anna Rosenberg who has never been regarded as a Republican and he is close to David Dubinsky, the boss of the Liberal Party.

Whereas no one can say that there are not ultra-respectable associations, they are definitely not Republican associations. For a man who has been in public life about 20 years, very few Republicans have ever encountered Nelson Rockefeller and therefore there are few Republican attachments to him.

The Republican who in New York State has emerged to altogether unexpected heights of popularity is Louis Lefkowitz, the Attorney General. Lefkowitz has, for many years, been what may be called a club-house politician. He was the chairman of the Law Committee of the New York County Committee. He has, to the surprise of Democrats as well as Republicans, made a competent, even brilliant, Attorney General. He displays balance and real capacity. Mer is beginning to compare him to Thomas E. Dewey. He could be nominated for Governor without any difficulty.

The chances of the Republican Party in 1958 depend upon economic conditions, altogether discounting Eisenhower popularity. If the recession remains as it is or worsens, there is not a chance that these Eastern states will go Republican at all.

Aphasia Victims Aided

By German N. Bundesen, M.D.

A few weeks ago, I wrote a column about aphasia and what the Northwestern Institute for Language Disorders—the only school of its kind in the country that we know of—is doing to help some of our young aphasia victims.

A great many of you, apparently, are interested in both the problem and the solution, for you have written asking more details about the school.

First, a word about the problem. Throughout the nation, there are several thousand youngsters whose ability to speak, read, write or work with numbers has been curtailed by damage to language centers of the brain.

Unfortunately, few of the children get effective aid. The principal reason for this is simply that the general public not only does not understand the nature of the difficulties but they don't even know the trouble exists.

The great tragedy about all this is that, in many instances, the youngsters are believed to be emotionally disturbed or mentally deficient when that is not the case at all.

Since it has been only during the last decade that science has investigated the relationship between language disorders in children and brain damage, there is a great need for education, both in the instruction of the handicapped and the training of therapists.

The Language Institute on the University Campus at Evanston, Illinois, does work in both fields. When youngsters with language disorders first visit the Institute, they are given comprehensive tests to determine the cause of their handicaps.

These children, the Institute has found, learn best in small classes conducted in rooms relatively free from noise and interruptions. The youngsters are not grouped by age, but by their ability to learn, social maturity and emotional adjustment.

Formal instruction at the school occupies only a portion of the day, but a child's improvement also depends on maintaining controls over the remainder of his waking hours.

The school recommends that daily routine of these children should be free from activities which involve numerous distractions.

Things like visiting a supermarket or department store, seeing a movie, or having guests are not the least bit exciting to us. But they might bewilder and overstimulate a child with a damaged brain.

Question and Answer
S. P.: What is the best way to treat nausea and vomiting during pregnancy?

Answer: Since nearly fifty percent of the women who are pregnant have nausea and vomiting during the first three months of pregnancy, not too much concern should be paid to normal amounts of this distress during these months. Usually, eating smaller amounts of food at more frequent intervals, and eating a greater amount of starches helps.

The use of sedatives and a drug known as diphenhydramine are of help in certain cases, but should be used only under the doctor's direction.

UNDERNEATH THE BOARDWALK at a Gulf-side resort, a dice game was raging. A newcomer joined the group, and awaited his turn to "shoot." When it came, he poked a soiled ten-spot on the blanket, was promptly covered, uttered a few supplications to Lady Luck, and rolled the bones. Unfortunately, a third die rolled out of his sleeve, and joined the pair which already registered a 5 and a 2. The third die stopped at 6.
There was a moment of tense silence as the boss of the game quickly reached out and slipped the third die into his pocket. Then he handed the original two to the shooter. "Go ahead and shoot, boy," he said, rolling up his sleeve. "Your point is thirteen."

The girls will receive bachelor of arts degrees in teaching. And any girl who goes to Yale and fails to get a bachelor has no business teaching.

So who's going to get ahead, secondary education or the telephone company?

Castro Is Cuba's Latest Firebrand

By HOYT MCFEE
Central Press Association Correspondent
JUAREZ, Mexico — Credit Cuba's Fidel Castro — "the revolutionary upstart" — with this accomplishment: He has dramatized his cause in the eyes of the world. Readers everywhere now visualize him as an audacious leader with a flair for dramatic moves at timely moments. For example, consider those two incidents in Havana on the eve of Cuba's widely-publicized sports festival.
Castro rebels seized the world champion auto racer, Juan Manuel Fangio of Argentina, held him for hours, then released him unharmed. Fast on the heels of that, they pulled off an electrifying, early-morning raid on the National Bank of Cuba. Betraying no signs of fear or nervousness, they started a bonfire with a mass of checks, then vanquished — producing stunned silence among some on-lookers and evoking bravos from others.
Castro has fired the imagination of peoples of the Western Hemisphere more dramatically than any rebel leader since the late Pancho Villa of Mexico. Fidel Castro, incidentally, has drawn inspiration and valuable pointers from a close study of Villa's guerrilla campaigns.
Now, in 1958, the "hit run - and hide" tactics of the late Pancho Villa once again are being put to the test by Castro. A mounting array of evidence indicates they're paying off for Castro and his Cuban rebels in their bold bid to boot out Cuban President Fulgencio Batista and (in Castro's concept) "bring to Cuba a New Deal, a truly free, democratic government."

JUAN RODRIGUEZ OF Juarez gives this information of how Castro employs the guerrilla tactics of Villa. Rodriguez, a business man, makes three and four trips to Cuba yearly. He has known Castro — the bearded, dynamic, youthful-looking "firebrand" — for something like three years. "I first met him at a gala fes-

ta," Rodriguez reports. "On a later occasion, I heard him tell a bunch of disgruntled students how to organize against their oppressors. The last time I saw him his revolt was rolling ahead at a modest clip. He spoke for 10 minutes to 20 or more sugarcane workers in a coast-town cantina. They were so inspired by his appeal that they joined his rebels on the spot."

"Castro is an idealist all right," says Rodriguez, "but he mixes idealism and everyday common sense. Though a lawyer and scholar, he speaks the language of the sugar-cane workers, the fishermen, students and the man in the street."

One final observation by Rodriguez: "Fidel Castro has great emotional appeal. This quality of his impels Cubans of all stations to abandon their jobs and their homes to fight for him—just as thousands of Mexicans once did for Pancho Villa."

At any rate, if Nelson Rockefeller does run for the United States Senate, he will come up against tough opposition which will be aggravated by economic conditions if the recession continues.

Besides, to most Republicans, Nelson Rockefeller is a maver-

ick. He has served in the Roosevelt and Truman Administrations in Washington as well as in the Eisenhower Administration. He has always been associated with Mrs. Anna Rosenberg who has never been regarded as a Republican and he is close to David Dubinsky, the boss of the Liberal Party.

Whereas no one can say that there are not ultra-respectable associations, they are definitely not Republican associations. For a man who has been in public life about 20 years, very few Republicans have ever encountered Nelson Rockefeller and therefore there are few Republican attachments to him.

The Republican who in New York State has emerged to altogether unexpected heights of popularity is Louis Lefkowitz, the Attorney General. Lefkowitz has, for many years, been what may be called a club-house politician. He was the chairman of the Law Committee of the New York County Committee. He has, to the surprise of Democrats as well as Republicans, made a competent, even brilliant, Attorney General. He displays balance and real capacity. Mer is beginning to compare him to Thomas E. Dewey. He could be nominated for Governor without any difficulty.

The chances of the Republican Party in 1958 depend upon economic conditions, altogether discounting Eisenhower popularity. If the recession remains as it is or worsens, there is not a chance that these Eastern states will go Republican at all.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

UNDERNEATH THE BOARDWALK at a Gulf-side resort, a dice game was raging. A newcomer joined the group, and awaited his turn to "shoot." When it came, he parked a soiled ten-spot on the blanket, was promptly covered, uttered a few supplications to Lady Luck, and rolled the bones. Unfortunately, a third die rolled out of his sleeve, and joined the pair which already registered a 5 and a 2. The third die stopped at 6.

There was a moment of tense silence as the boss of the game quickly reached out and slipped the third die into his pocket. Then he handed the original two to the shooter. "Go ahead and shoot, boy," he said, rolling up his sleeve. "Your point is thirteen."

A 14-year-old siren at a fashionable school didn't think highly of the pigtail-pulling lad who sat directly behind her. "If that goon had another hole in his head," she told her mother, "he'd have cross ventilation."

Aphasia Victims Aided

By Glerman N. Bundesen, M.D.
A few weeks ago, I wrote a column about aphasia and what the Northwestern Institute for Language Disorders—the only school of its kind in the country that we know of—is doing to help some of our young aphasia victims.

A great many of you, apparently, are interested in both the problem and the solution, for you have written asking more details about the school.

First, a word about the problem. Throughout the nation, there are several thousand youngsters whose ability to speak, read, write or work with numbers has been curtailed by damage to language centers of the brain. Unfortunately, few of the children get effective aid. The principal reason for this is simply that the general public not only does not understand the nature of the difficulties but they don't even know the trouble exists.

The great tragedy about all this is that, in many instances, the youngsters are believed to be emotionally disturbed or mentally deficient when that is not the case at all.

Since it has been only during the last decade that science has investigated the relationship between language disorders in children and brain damage, there is a great need for education, both in the instruction of the handicapped and the training of therapists. The Language Institute on the University Campus at Evanston, Illinois, does work in both fields.

When youngsters with language disorders first visit the Institute, they are given comprehensive tests to determine the cause of their handicaps.

These children, the Institute has found, learn best in small classes conducted in rooms relatively free from noise and interruptions. The youngsters are not grouped by age, but by their ability to learn, social maturity and emotional adjustment.

Formal instruction at the school occupies only a portion of the day, but a child's improvement also depends on maintaining controls over the remainder of his waking hours.

The school recommends that daily routine of these children should be free from activities which involve numerous distractions.

Things like visiting a supermarket or department store, seeing a movie, or having guests are not the least bit exciting to us. But they might bewilder and overstimulate a child with a damaged brain.

Question and Answer
S. P.: What is the best way to treat nausea and vomiting during pregnancy?

Answer: Since nearly fifty percent of the women who are pregnant have nausea and vomiting during the first three months of pregnancy, not too much concern should be paid to normal amounts of this distress during these months. Usually, eating smaller amounts of food at more frequent intervals, and eating a greater amount of starches helps. The use of sedatives and a drug known as diphenhydramine are of help in certain cases, but should be used only under the doctor's direction.

Yale is going coed next fall. The Ivy League institution will admit 40 clinging vines from Vassar and Smith.

The girls' studies will be in secondary education. There's nothing like the presence of girls to make education secondary.

The girls will receive bachelor of arts degrees in teaching. And any girl who goes to Yale and fails to get a bachelor has no business teaching.

The Yale coeds will be outnumbered a hundred to one. That ought to buoy them up.

So who's going to get ahead, secondary education or the telephone company?

Back in 1956 Yale's dean of admissions said schools for only one sex were "outmoded." Vassar and Smith will supply not only the other sex, but some new modes as well.

It's a changing world. The satellites swarm around the earth and Old Eli comes out with a sack look.

Nobody Seems To Want Baby

COLUMBUS, O.—Police are searching for the mother of a 19-month-old boy nobody wants.

The boy, Thomas Jefferson Velich, was first abandoned a few weeks ago by his mother, Barbara Jefferson Velich. She and Tommy's step-father Dennis, 24, disappeared.

The couple had been living with Velich's sister Rosemary, 19. When they left, Rosemary asked her mother, Mrs. Nettie Velich, 38, of Phelps, Ky., to come to Columbus to help her.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O.—An 18-year-old boy suffered serious injuries Friday, apparently while mixing fuel for a homemade rocket. All five fingers were amputated on the left hand of William Rosenberg.

Castro Is Cuba's Latest Firebrand

By HOYT McFEE
Central Press Association
Correspondent

JUAREZ, Mexico — Credit Cuba's Fidel Castro — "the revolutionary upstart" — with this accomplishment: He has dramatized his cause in the eyes of the world. Readers everywhere now visualize him as an audacious leader with a flair for dramatic moves at timely moments. For example, consider those two incidents in Havana on the eve of Cuba's widely-publicized sports festival.

Castro rebels seized the world champion auto racer, Juan Manuel Fangio of Argentina, held him for hours, then released him unharmed. Fast on the heels of that, they pulled off an electrifying, early-morning raid on the National Bank of Cuba. Betraying no signs of fear or nervousness, they started a bonfire with a mass of checks, then vamoosed — producing stunned silence among on-lookers and evoking bravos from others.

Castro has fired the imagination of peoples of the Western Hemisphere more dramatically than any rebel leader since the late Pancho Villa of Mexico. Fidel Castro, incidentally, has drawn inspiration and valuable pointers from a close study of Villa's guerrilla campaigns.

Now, in 1958, the "hit run - and hide" tactics of the late Pancho Villa once again are being put to the test by Castro. A mounting array of evidence indicates they're paying off for Castro and his Cuban rebels in their bold bid to boot out Cuban President Fulgencio Batista and (in Castro's concept) "bring to Cuba a New Deal, a truly free, democratic government."

JUAN RODRIGUEZ of Juarez gives this information of how Castro employs the guerrilla tactics of Villa. Rodriguez, a business man, makes three and four trips to Cuba yearly. He has known Castro — the bearded, dynamic, youthful - looking "firebrand" — for something like three years. "I first met him at a gala fiesta," Rodriguez reports. "On a later occasion, I heard him tell a bunch of disgruntled students how to organize against their oppressors. The last time I saw him his revolt was rolling ahead at a modest clip. He spoke for 10 minutes to 20 or more sugarcane workers in a coasttown cantina. They were so inspired by his appeal that they joined his rebels on the spot."

"Castro is an idealist all right," says Rodriguez, "but he mixes idealism and everyday common sense. Though a lawyer and scholar, he speaks the language of the sugar-cane workers, the fishermen, students and the man in the street."

"Castro won't permit his rebels to plunder and steal — except from the Batista forces! Growing numbers of Cubans are joining him every week, and fighting by his side," Rodriguez says. He also recounted two brief conversations he had with Fidel Castro.

One final observation by Rodriguez: "Fidel Castro has great emotional appeal. This quality of his impels Cubans of all stations to abandon their jobs and their homes to fight for him—just as thousands of Mexicans once did for Pancho Villa."

Silver Tea Discussed at PCAW Meeting

Member organizations were well represented when the Pickaway County Assn. of Women's Clubs met Wednesday evening in the Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Lawrence Johnson presided over the business session, at which time several committee reports and future plans were discussed. Following a suggestion from the ways and means committee, the group decided to conduct a candy sale as their newest project.

In 1950, the association sponsored its first Silver Tea, which was so successfully received that it has since become an annual affair. The programs have been varied and interesting. This year tentative plans are being made to engage the Westminster Foundation Youth Group to present one of their plays. Although it usually is held in May, a definite date for this tea has not been decided.

A number of other projects are slated for discussion at the next meeting of April 23.

Mrs. Christy New Chairman Of Guild 27

Mrs. Robert Christy was elected the new chairman of Berger Hospital Guild No. 27 when it met in the guild room of the hospital Tuesday evening. Mrs. W. P. Yamarick was elected vice-chairman; Mrs. Malcolm Lawrence, secretary; Mrs. Victor Rogers, treasurer.

Mrs. Frank Gill was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. Robert Currie and Mrs. Fred Clutton were accepted as new members. Bazaar projects were discussed during the business meeting. The Christmas theme was chosen with committees to be appointed by the chairman.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Kenneth Luna and Mrs. Hewitt Harmount followed by members playing bridge. Surprise packages were given as prizes.

Spring Flower Show Plans Discussed by Garden Club

Naming a branch they had forced was how 12 members of the Commercial Point Garden Club answered roll call when it met in the home of Mrs. Ralph Haughn, Thursday.

An invitation was read from the Asheville Garden Club, pertaining to their flower show and tea. Plans were made for the Spring Flower Show to be held at 7:30 p. m., April 24 at Harrisburg. The show is to be sponsored by Darby Garden Club, Darby Valley Garden Club and Commercial Point Garden Club.

Plans for a workshop to be held April 14 in the home of Mrs. Francis Hoover were made. The workshop is to help the beginners so they might participate in the flower show. The committee for the homecoming float was appointed.

Wrong Purchase May Be Put to Right Use

You can't always make wise beauty purchases. From time to time, mistakes are made. Sometimes, they can be rectified.

Suppose, for example, you buy liquid rouge that's a dash too brilliant. Toss it out? Not at all. Pour some of the rouge out. Pour some tinted foundation base in. Shake well! You've a rouge shade that's toned down considerably.

Nail polish that's not a good color can often be salvaged, too. For example, a friend tried a new polish that turned out to be shocking orange. Much too bold for this gal! She mixed it with a half-full bottle of pink polish and developed a happy-medium—a nice coral shade.

While we're on polish, there's the old trick of thinning thick polish by pouring in a drop or two of polish remover. Don't use too much remover, however. A little goes a long way.

Learn to get the last measure of good from beauty aids. Use a brush to apply lipstick and you can dig out the last bit of lipstick in the tube.

Throw out soap sippers? Don't be silly. There are some parts of the world where soap's a luxury. Save those sippers, sew them up in a terry cloth square and you've a wonder aid to use when you want to suds up for bath or shower.

Even perfume bottles come in handy. When empty, place them in with lingerie. They'll scent it nicely. Or, if they're very pretty, wash out with alcohol and fill up with a new supply of scent.

cover what a bright world you're living in!

Silk and other fabric shades may need a dunking, but be sure the fabric is sewed on before you submerge the shade in water which may loosen glue used to fasten fabric into frame.

Fabric that's sewed on the frame may be safely dunked and scrubbed gently with a sudsy brush. Rinse under the faucet, or with a faucet spray thoroughly before replacing it on the lamp base.

Don't forget those wall lamps! Turn the metal or plastic shades upside down, wipe them out inside with a sudsy sponge and let them dry.

Unscrow the bulbs and go over them, too. Then wash the outsides of the shades.

The job doesn't really take much time and effort and the results are striking.

The time meat needs to be broiled will depend on its thickness rather than its weight.

IF LEGS ARE DRY and flaky, it's a good idea to slather a creamy lotion on them after you've taken a bath or shower.

Cream Up Constantly If Your Skin Is Dry

Dry skin is usually smooth and blemish-free, lovely to look at. But what a headache! It shows lines early, gets flaky and dried out unless given proper care.

How to handle it? First of all, it needs lubrication and plenty of it. You can't apply too much cream too often. The more, the better!

One famous beauty, for example, applies cream or baby oil to her face whenever she's at home. She gets up in the morning, goes the cream or oil until she's ready to go out. Or she comes home, takes off her hat and creams or oils up immediately.

A messy business, perhaps, but it's paid off for her. At 48, her skin is fresh and unlined and beautiful.

A beauty bath can help dry skin, too, providing you use bath or baby oil in the tub. It will cling to the skin, leave it smooth and lovely. If you don't take an oil bath, do slather creamy lotion on legs and arms after your tubbing.

The woman with dry skin should take special care when warm weather comes along. Sun-bathing is not for her. It will dry her skin further.

When she heads outdoors, her skin should be protected with a lotion that screens out the sun's rays.

Hel make-up should be carefully chosen. A foundation that's creamy will do the most for her. With care—and such skin needs plenty of it—the dry complexion can look youthful for years.

Silver Tea Discussed at PCAW Meeting

Member organizations were well represented when the Pickaway County Assn. of Women's Clubs met Wednesday evening in the Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Lawrence Johnson, president over the business session, at which time several committee reports and future plans were discussed. Following a suggestion from the ways and means committee, the group decided to conduct a candy sale as their newest project.

In 1950, the association sponsored its first Silver Tea, which was so successfully received that it has since become an annual affair. The programs have been varied and interesting. This year tentative plans are being made to engage the Westminster Foundation Youth Group to present one of their plays. Although it usually is held in May, a definite date for this tea has not been decided.

A number of other projects are slated for discussion at the next meeting of April 23.

Mrs. Christy New Chairman Of Guild 27

Mrs. Robert Christy was elected the new chairman of Berger Hospital Guild No. 27 when it met in the guild room of the hospital Tuesday evening. Mrs. W. P. Yamarick was elected vice-chairman; Mrs. Malcolm Lawrence, secretary; Mrs. Victor Rogers, treasurer.

Mrs. Frank Gill was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. Robert Currie and Mrs. Fred Clutton were accepted as new members. Bazaar projects were discussed during the business meeting. The Christmas theme was chosen with committees to be appointed by the chairman.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Kenneth Luna and Mrs. Hewitt Harmount followed by members playing bridge. Surprise packages were given as prizes.

Spring Flower Show Plans Discussed by Garden Club

Naming a branch they had forced was how 12 members of the Commercial Point Garden Club answered roll call when it met in the home of Mrs. Ralph Haughn, Thursday.

An invitation was read from the Asheville Garden Club, pertaining to their flower show and tea. Plans were made for the Spring Flower Show to be held at 7:30 p. m., April 24 at Harrisburg. The show is to be sponsored by Darby Garden Club, Darby Valley Garden Club and Commercial Point Garden Club.

Plans for a workshop to be held April 14 in the home of Mrs. Francis Hoover were made. The workshop is to help the beginners so they might participate in the flower show. The committee for the homecoming float was appointed.

Members are Mrs. Walter Writsel, chairman, Mrs. Ralph Phillips and Mrs. Howard McGhee. The meeting was closed by repeating the Lord's prayer.

"The green thumb party" was the program presented by Mrs. Carl Gulick. She presented a collection of 27 different seeds which each member was to identify as many seeds as possible. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. McGee, first and Mrs. Richard Snider.

A flower show entitled "lines", using branches and any material, was judged with Mrs. Fred Thraill winning first and Mrs. Writsel, second. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held April 23 in the home of Mrs. Guy Gulick with Mrs. Carl Gulick co-hostess.

Wrong Purchase May Be Put to Right Use

You can't always make wise beauty purchases. From time to time, mistakes are made. Sometimes, they can be rectified.

Suppose, for example, you buy liquid rouge that's a dash too brilliant. Toss it out? Not at all. Pour some of the rouge out. Pour some tinted foundation base in. Shake well! You've a rouge shade that's toned down considerably.

Nail polish that's not a good color can often be salvaged, too. For example, a friend tried a new polish that turned out to be shocking orange. Much too bold for this gal! She mixed it with a half-bottle of pink polish and deposed a happy-medium—a nice coral shade.

While we're on polish, there's the old trick of thinning thick polish by pouring in a drop or two of polish remover. Don't use too much remover, however. A little goes a long way.

Learn to get the last measure of good from beauty aids. Use a brush to apply lipstick and you can dig out the last bit of lipstick in the tube.

Throw out soap spongers! Don't be silly. There are some parts of the world where soap's a luxury. Save those spongers, sew them up in a terry cloth square and you've a wonder aid to use when you want to suds up for bath or shower.

Even perfume bottles come in handy. When empty, place them in with lingerie. They'll scent it nicely. Or, if they're very pretty, wash out with alcohol and fill up with a new supply of scent.

Dusty Lamp Shades Cast Gloomy Shadow In Room

If things are beginning to look dim in the living room, look to your lamps.

You may think, at first, that the rug has faded, the draperies are practically gone and that the slip covers look anything but fresh. Everything in general suddenly has that dingy, gloomy look.

The whole trouble may be that your lamps need washing!

Some of us are apt to skip the lamps when cleaning house. We swab off the table, wash off the ornaments, scrub the ash trays—and forget the lamps completely.

The easy way to restore life to your living room is this:

Remove the plugs from the table lamps and set them on the kitchen counter. Remove the shades, unscrew the light bulbs and put them to one side.

Protect the electric plugs from moisture.

Take a sponge or brush, dipped into warm soap or detergent suds, and go over lamp base thoroughly. Rinse with a damp sponge or cloth and wipe dry.

Swab the light bulb with suds, without wetting the business end of it! Rinse it carefully and wipe dry. Put the lamp back in its socket.

Then take a sudsy sponge, keeping the suds as stiff and dry as possible, and go over the shade, inside and out.

This method of washing works on almost any lamp shade. If you work quickly and with care, the results will be all to the good for plastic, parchment, heavy glazed paper.

After rinse-wiping and drying, replace the shade on the lamp. Then turn on the current and discover what a bright world you're living in!

Silk and other fabric shades may need a dunking, but be sure the fabric is sewed on before you submerge the shade in water which may loosen glue used to fasten fabric into frame.

Fabric that's sewed on the frame may be safely dunked and scrubbed gently with a sudsy brush. Rinse under the faucet, or with a faucet spray thoroughly before replacing it on the lamp base.

Don't forget those wall lamps! Turn the metal or plastic shades upside down, wipe them out inside with a sudsy sponge and let them dry.

Unscrew the bulbs and go over them, too. Then wash the outsides of the shades.

The job doesn't really take much time and effort and the results are striking.

The time meat needs to be broiled will depend on its thickness rather than its weight.

IF LEGS ARE DRY and flaky, it's a good idea to slather a creamy lotion on them after you've taken a bath or shower.

Cream Up Constantly If Your Skin Is Dry

Dry skin is usually smooth and blemish-free, lovely to look at. But what a headache! It shows lines early, gets flaky and dried out unless given proper care.

How to handle it? First of all, it needs lubrication and plenty of it. You can't apply too much cream too often. The more, the better!

One famous beauty, for example, applies cream or baby oil to her face whenever she's at home. She gets up in the morning, on goes the cream or oil until she's ready to go out. Or she comes home, takes off her hat and creams or oils up immediately.

A messy business, perhaps, but it's paid off for her. At 48, her skin is fresh and unlined and beautiful.

A beauty bath can help dry skin, too, providing you use bath or baby oil in the tub. It will cling to the skin, leave it smooth and lovely. If you don't take an oil bath, do slather creamy lotion on legs and arms after your tubbing.

The woman with dry skin should take special care when warm weather comes along. Sun-bathing is not for her. It will dry her skin further.

When she heads outdoors, her skin should be protected with a lotion that screens out the sun's rays.

Hel make-up should be carefully chosen. A foundation that's creamy will do the most for her. With care—and such skin needs plenty of it—the dry complexion can look youthful for years.

Mrs. Perrill Hostess for Homemakers

A practical exhibit exchange of homemaking skills was discussed when the Community Circle Homemakers Club met in the home of Mrs. Russell G. Perrill, Route 1, Ashville, Thursday. They also made an observation and discussion of Mrs. Perrill's antiques.

Mrs. Harry Trump showed and explained color slides of the process by which corn is inspected and packed. These pictures were taken in a plant where her daughter was inspector.

At noon lunch was enjoyed by Mrs. E. A. Payne, Mrs. Walter Cummins, Mrs. Alfred Cook, Mrs. Albert L. Newton, Mrs. John Ankrom, Mrs. Cecil Ward, Mrs. Weimer Perrill, Mrs. Leora Sayre, Mrs. Trump and the hostess.

Although searing meat in a very hot oven or skillet improves its brown appearance it does increase shrinkage. Take your choice!

Spring Revue Discussed at WAHDC Meeting

The Spring Revue was discussed at the Wayne Area Home Demonstration Club when it met in the home of Mrs. Alva Hoffman last week. Mrs. Dean announced the date of April 24 for the revue. A luncheon consisting of food made of different countries recipe will be held, following the luncheon a style show will be presented.

Mrs. Dean and Mrs. J. Peart presented a safety playlet entitled "Mrs. Rocking Chair and Mrs. Stepladder Talk Safety". Mrs. Leora Sayre presented a program on how families spend their money and planning family spending and living on a budget.

The next meeting will be April 15 in the home of Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, Route 2, Mrs. Harold Schein and Mrs. William Hoffman Jr. will present a program on "Accessories to Spice the Costume".

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Richard Garrison and daughter.

Mrs. Delong Honored on 90th Birthday

The Country home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar DeLong, west of Adelphi, was the scene of a dinner party on Friday evening, March 28th, honoring his mother, Mrs. Nelson DeLong, on her 90th birthday.

A turkey dinner was served from a table decorated in pink and white with a center piece of pink carnations flanked by pink tapers in crystal holders.

Guests for the occasion were the honored guest Mrs. Nelson DeLong, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Reese, Lancaster, Mr. and Mrs. Roswell DeLong, Mr. and Mrs. Earl DeLong, all of Laurelville and the hosts.

Prospects Good For 1958 Cubs

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — If the Chicago Cubs can pick up in April where they left off last September, things may be brighter for the 1957 cellar-dweller of the National League.

So believes Bob Scheffing, starting his second year as field boss of the Bruins.

"We were a far better team in the second half of the season than we were given credit for and in the last two months we played better than .500 ball," said Scheffing.

4 Big League Pitchers Over Mound Tests

Only Robin Roberts Continues To Suffer Gopher Ball Blues

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four big league pitchers, plagued by a variety of ailments ranging from a sore arm to second divisionitis, were over another mound test today and only one—Robin Roberts—had any misgivings.

In addition to Roberts, the other hurlers were Frank Baumann of Boston, Bob Rush of Milwaukee and Jack Harshman of Baltimore.

Roberts, who has been the favorite target of National League batsmen since he came up to the majors 10 years ago, continued to have the gopher ball blues Friday.

The four-time 20 game winner, a 22-game loser in 1957, was passed for five homers—four in one inning—by the Pittsburgh Pirates. Robin established the existing big league mark by permitting 46 home runs in 1956.

Ted Kluszcwski walloped two of Pittsburgh's homers while Benny Daniels, Johnny Powers and Danny Kravitz got the others for the Pirates who won 8-7.

Baumann, a fastballing left-hander who has been bothered by a sore wing the past few seasons, turned in his best showing of the exhibition season as the Red Sox downed Cincinnati 8-5. The former bonus baby yielded only two runs and three hits in a five-inning stint.

Rush, who toiled for the lowly Chicago Cubs for 10 years before being rescued by the Braves the past winter, showed his appreciation in Milwaukee's 11-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Rush went the distance and yielded only five hits. He retired the last 10 batters to face him.

Harshman, troubled by a back ailment while with the White Sox in 1957, was the winning pitcher as Baltimore whipped the Chicago Cubs, 14-7. He pitched five innings and yielded five runs. But the former first baseman hit the game's only homer, a three-run blast in the fourth.

In other games, the Washington Senators whipped the New York Yankees 6-4 in a game marred by an injury to Mickey Mantle; the St. Louis Cardinals beat Kansas City 4-2; Detroit outslugged Los Angeles 12-11 and Cleveland nipped San Francisco 9-8.

Mantle sustained a charley horse in his left leg while grounding into a doubleplay in the third inning. He retired in the third but the injury is not believed serious.

Cincy Heavy Cops Ohio AAU Crown

TOLEDO (AP) — Biggest blow of the 1958 Ohio AAU boxing championships here was the last one.

That was when heavyweight Cawthorn Miree of Cincinnati floored Bob McVickers at 41 seconds of the second round with a terrific right. The 186-pound McVickers was unable to get to his feet for some time after he was counted out in their title match Friday night.

Miree, a 185-pounder, was one of only three men from outside the Toledo area who won bouts.

Toledo boxers won seven of the 10 titles. The winners qualified for the National AAU Tournament at Boston April 18 and 19.

And, he added, his feels his men will resume this brand of play when the season kicks off in mid-April.

On the happy side, the Cubs have an outstanding ball player in shortstop Ernie Banks, and at least two excellent young pitchers in Moe Drabowsky and Dick Drott.

He can expect good punch from such veterans as Dale Long, Lee Walls and Walt Moryn, as well as Banks, who walloped 43 home runs last year.

There are several rookies whose fate must yet be decided, but Scheffing, owner P. K. Wrigley and the vice president triumvirate of John Holland, Charley Grimm and Clarence Rowland are optimistic over some prospects.

Included would be an infielder, John Goryl, 24, who batted .301 with Memphis last year, and Glen Hobbie, 198-pound, 6-3 youngster who won 15 at Memphis. The Cubs thought highly of Hobbie — $50,000 worth of admiration, to be exact.

Scheffing still seeks a starting infield combination. Set are Dale Long at first and Banks at shortstop. Tony Taylor, rookie drafted from Dallas, and Jerry Kindall have been working at second and Goryl at third.

Bobby Adams and Bob Morgan are good reserve infielders and with Goryl knocking at the door, Scheffing can do a bit of juggling before he finds the best combination.

Moryn (.289), left field, Walls (.237) in right and Chuck Tanner, formerly with the Milwaukee Braves, center, form the outfield nucleus, with Bob Speake available in the outer garden or to spell Long at first.

Scheffing's pitching staff includes such veterans as ex-Brave Taylor Phillips, Jim Brosnan, Dick Littlefield and two able relievers, Turk Lown and Don Elston.

Cal Neeman did a good job as the No. 1 catcher last year, backed up by Elvin Tappe and Sam Taylor.

Drabowsky, 22, soon to be discharged from the service, won 15 games in his second year with the Cubs last year. And Drott, 21, was a sensation as a freshman with a 15-11 record.

Drott struck out 170 batters and scored three shutouts, giving up only 11 hits in the three games. His biggest day was when he fanned 15 Milwaukee Braves.

"I definitely feel we move up this year," concluded Scheffing.

Turner's Low Blows Cost Him Decision

NEW YORK (AP) — It was a typical fight after a math. The winner, young Mickey Crawford, hollered for a chance at the title. The loser, veteran Gil Turner, gave out the usual "we wuz robbed" beef. And no subpoenas were handed out.

Crawford, 24, fast-rising prospect from Saginaw, Mich., proved he belonged with the waterweight elite, by nosing out Turner, 27, fourth-ranked contender from Philadelphia, in the television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

If there was anyone to blame, Turner should have singled himself out for the rap. His low blows cost him the fight. He would have received a draw except for the fouls. Referee Al Berl warned him for low lefts in the first two rounds. When Gil strayed below the border again in the third, Berl took the round from him.

The officials' votes, all with Crawford ahead, went like this: Judge Sam Irom, 6-4; Referee Berl, 5-4-1; and Judge Artie Aidala, 5-5 in rounds and 6-5 for Crawford in points. Aidala had Crawford ahead in the third and awarded him an extra point for the foul. Irom would have given the round to Turner except for the foul and his card would have been a draw.

Finsterwald Seems To Be Making Habit Of Chasing Palmer

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP) — Dow Finsterwald, Athens, Ohio, appears to be making a career of chasing Arnold Palmer.

Going into today's second round of the $15,000 Azalea Open golf tournament, Palmer held a one-stroke lead over Finsterwald.

That's exactly the way they stood last Sunday when Palmer came up with a last round 65 to nose out Finsterwald by one stroke for top money in the St. Petersburg Open.

And a year ago this week Palmer, a Latrobe, Pa. pro who was national amateur champion in 1954, finished one stroke ahead of Finsterwald in winning here.

Palmer sliced six strokes off par with a first round 66. Finsterwald came in with a 67.

Wilmington Aide Quits

WILMINGTON (AP) — Stanley L. McCoy resigned as athletic director of Wilmington High School Friday to take a similar post at Loveland High School.

Stokes Now Showing Slight Improvement

CINCINNATI (AP) — Maurice Stokes is still only semi-conscious but the big pro basketball star for Cincinnati's Royals has made much progress in his two-week fight against encephalitis.

Dr. C. R. Hunter said Friday night that "improvement has been very meager from day to day, but compared with 10 days ago, it has been considerable."

"Stokes now can follow people in the room with his eyes and obeys simple commands."

Ohio State Clings to Lead In NCAA Swimming Meet

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Ohio State was clinging to a one-point margin today in a National Collegiate Athletic Assn. swimming meet that has been notable for its surprises.

The top surprise was the Buckeyes' grip on first place over defending champion and favorite Michigan. Ohio State, which won 10 previous team titles, had scored 43 points to Michigan's 42 entering today's last six events.

These races will be televised nationally (CBS 3 p.m. EST).

Then, too, it was surprising the Wolverines have yet to unseat their vaunted strength. They expected to take a commanding lead in Friday night's eight events.

But with the failure of Dick Hanley to win the 220-yard free style and Tony Tashnick to qualify for the 200-yard individual medley, Michigan lost crucial points.

Yale likewise was a bit off schedule in third with 30 points. The E's Tim Jecko had been counted on for a first in the medley after the favorite Tashnick didn't qualify. Instead Joe Hunsaker of Illinois took the event in 2:09.6. Defending champion Jecko finished third.

Tashnick swam the speediest 200-yard butterfly ever turned in by a collegian in winning the event in 2:04.2. It shattered Jecko's American collegiate mark of 2:08.6 and his NCAA meet record of 2:09.5. Jecko placed second.

Michigan suffered a disappointment when star freestyler Hanley was nipped at the tape in 220 by Yale's Roger Anderson. In this thrilling race, Anderson was of Gary Morris of Iowa won the 50-yard free style in :22.4 with 1956 champion Robin Moore of Stanford coming in fifth.

Don Harper of Ohio State won the three-meter diving. It was his second gold medal of the meet. Dave Pemberton of Northwestern won the 200-yard backstroke in 2:08.0.

Michigan state was poised ready to advance from its fourth place position with 28 points should any of the favorites falter today.

Only Few On Hand For Star Battle

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — There were thrills aplenty, but not much of a crowd for the first annual North-South All-Star basketball game that saw the North win 111-109 in overtime on a last-second tip-in shot.

The crowd was only 1,000. The North tied the regulation game at 99-all on a jump shot by Don Ohl of Illinois with three seconds remaining. Ohl missed a one-hander with the clock running out in the overtime. Jack Parr of Kansas State then tapped it in.

Ohl was high scorer with 27 points. He was voted as the game's most valuable player.

Prospects Good For 1958 Cubs

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — If the Chicago Cubs can pick up in April where they left off last September, things may be brighter for the 1957 cellar-dweller of the National League.

So believes Bob Scheffing, starting his second year as field boss of the Bruins.

"We were a far better team in the second half of the season than we were given credit for and in the last two months we played better than .500 ball," said Scheffing.

4 Big League Pitchers Over Mound Tests

Only Robin Roberts Continues To Suffer Gopher Ball Blues

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four big league pitchers, plagued by a variety of ailments ranging from a sore arm to second divisionitis, were over another mound test today and only one—Robin Roberts—had any misgivings.

In addition to Roberts, the other hurlers were Frank Baumann of Boston, Bob Rush of Milwaukee and Jack Harshman of Baltimore.

Roberts, who has been the favorite target of National League batsmen since he came up to the majors 10 years ago, continued to have the gopher ball blues Friday.

The four-time 20 game winner, a 22-game loser in 1957, was passed for five homers—four in one inning—by the Pittsburgh Pirates. Robin established the existing big league mark by permitting 46 home runs in 1956.

Ted Kluszewski walloped two of Pittsburgh's homers while Benny Daniels, Johnny Powers and Danny Kravitz got the others for the Pirates who won 8-7.

Baumann, a fastballing left-hander who has been bothered by a sore wing the past few seasons, turned in his best showing of the exhibition season as the Red Sox downed Cincinnati 8-5. The former bonus baby yielded only two runs and three hits in a five-inning stint.

Rush, who toiled for the lowly Chicago Cubs for 10 years before being rescued by the Braves the past winter, showed his appreciation in Milwaukee's 11-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Rush went the distance and yielded only five hits. He retired the last 10 batters to face him.

Harshman, troubled by a back ailment while with the White Sox in 1957, was the winning pitcher as Baltimore whipped the Chicago Cubs, 14-7. He pitched five innings and yielded five runs. But the former first baseman hit the game's only homer, a three-run blast in the fourth.

In other games, the Washington Senators whipped the New York Yankees 6-4 in a game marred by an injury to Mickey Mantle; the St. Louis Cardinals beat Kansas City 4-2; Detroit outslug Los Angeles 12-11 and Cleveland nipped San Francisco 9-8.

Mantle sustained a charley horse in his left leg while grounding into a doubleplay in the first inning. He retired in the third but the injury is not believed serious.

Cincy Heavy Cops Ohio AAU Crown

TOLEDO (AP) — Biggest blow of the 1958 Ohio AAU boxing championships here was the last one.

That was when heavyweight Cawthorn Mirce of Cincinnati floored Bob McVickers at 41 seconds of the second round with a terrific right. The 186-pound McVickers was unable to get to his feet for some time after he was counted out in their title match Friday night.

Mirce, a 185-pounder, was one of only three men from outside the Toledo area who won bouts.

Toledo boxers won seven of the 10 titles. The winners qualified for the National AAU Tournament at Boston April 18 and 19.

And a year ago this week Palmer, a Latrobe, Pa., pro who was national amateur champion in 1954, finished one stroke ahead of Finsterwald in winning here.

Palmer sliced six strokes off par with a first round 66. Finsterwald came in with a 67.

Wilmington Aide Quits

WILMINGTON (AP) — Stanley L. McCoy resigned as athletic director of Wilmington High School Friday to take a similar post at Loveland High School.

And, he added, his feels his men will resume this brand of play when the season kicks off in mid-April.

On the happy side, the Cubs have an outstanding ball player in shortstop Ernie Banks, and at least two excellent young pitchers in Moe Drabowsky and Dick Drott.

He can expect good punch from such veterans as Dale Long, Lee Walls and Walt Moryn, as well as Banks, who walloped 43 home runs last year.

There are several rookies whose fate must yet be decided, but Scheffing, owner P. K. Wrigley and the vice president triumvirate of John Holland, Charley Grimm and Clarence Rowland are optimistic over some prospects.

Included would be an infielder, John Goryl, 24, who batted .301 with Memphis last year, and Glen Hobbie, 198-pound, 6-3 youngster who won 15 at Memphis. The Cubs thought highly of Hobbie — $50,000 worth of admiration, to be exact.

Scheffing still seeks a starting infield combination. Set are Dale Long at first and Banks at shortstop. Tony Taylor, rookie drafted from Dallas, and Jerry Kindall have been working at second and Goryl at third.

Bobby Adams and Bob Morgan are good reserve infielders and with Goryl knocking at the door, Scheffing can do a bit of juggling before he finds the best combination.

Moryn (.289), left field, Walls (.237) in right and Chuck Tanner, formerly with the Milwaukee Braves, center, form the outfield nucleus, with Bob Speake available in the outer garden or to spell Long at first.

Scheffing's pitching staff includes such veterans as ex-Brave Taylor Phillips, Jim Brosnan, Dick Littlefield and two able relievers, Turk Lown and Don Elston.

Cal Neeman did a good job as the No. 1 catcher last year, backed up by Elvin Tappe and Sam Taylor.

Drabowsky, 22, soon to be discharged from the service, won 15 games in his second year with the Cubs last year. And Drott, 21, was a sensation as a freshman with a 15-11 record.

Drott struck out 170 batters and scored three shutouts, giving up only 11 hits in the three games. His biggest day was when he fanned 15 Milwaukee Braves.

"I definitely feel we move up this year," concluded Scheffing.

Turner's Low Blows Cost Him Decision

NEW YORK (AP) — It was a typical fight after a mauling. The winner, young Mickey Crawford, hollered for a chance at the title. The loser, veteran Gil Turner, gave out the usual "we wuz robbed" beef. And no subpoenas were handed out.

Crawford, 24, fast-rising prospect from Saginaw, Mich., proved he belonged with the welterweight elite, by nailing out Turner, 27, fourth-ranked contender from Philadelphia, in the television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

If there was anyone to blame, Turner should have singled himself out for the rap. His low blows cost him the fight. He would have received a draw except for the fouls. Referee Al Berl warned him for low lefts in the first two rounds. When Gil strayed below the border again in the third, Berl took the round from him.

The officials' votes, all with Crawford ahead, went like this: Judge Sam Irom, 6-4. Referee Berl, 5-4-1, and Judge Artie Aidala, 5-5 in rounds and 6-5 for Crawford in points. Aidala had Crawford ahead in the third and awarded him an extra point for the foul. Irom would have given the round to Turner except for the foul and his card would have been a draw.

Finsterwald Seems To Be Making Habit Of Chasing Palmer

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP) — Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, appears to be making a career of chasing Arnold Palmer.

Going into today's second round of the $15,000 Azalea Open golf tournament, Palmer held a one-stroke lead over Finsterwald.

That's exactly the way they stood last Sunday when Palmer came up with a last round 65 to nose out Finsterwald by one stroke for top money in the St. Petersburg Open.

And a year ago this week Palmer, a Latrobe, Pa., pro who was national amateur champion in 1954, finished one stroke ahead of Finsterwald in winning here.

Palmer sliced six strokes off par with a first round 66. Finsterwald came in with a 67.

Stokes Now Showing Slight Improvement

CINCINNATI (AP) — Maurice Stokes is still only semi-conscious but the big pro basketball star for Cincinnati's Royals has made much progress in his two-week fight against encephalitis.

Dr. C. R. Hunter said Friday night that "improvement has been very meager from day to day, but compared with 10 days ago, it has been considerable."

"Stokes now can follow people in the room with his eyes and obeys simple commands."

Court's Picture-Taking Ban May Be Hard To Enforce

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Supreme Court has tightened security but deputies have little hope of preventing surreptitious picture taking.

For one thing, they don't know what the camera looks like that was used to take forbidden snapshots of the March 4 court session, later published in Cleveland.

For another, deputies feel it will be difficult to keep strict watch on even the few visitors to the state's highest court without missing calls from the bench. The seven judges often want law books, a refill of ever-present water tumblers and other errands.

Judges and their officers appear convinced that another attempt will be made to take pictures of sessions despite a newly fortified ban that virtually assures a fine or imprisonment, possibly both.

Marshal Ray Jones and his deputies, Albert Will and Edward Taas, said they have been alerted anew to catch picture takers if possible. Jones said cameramen caught violating the picture ban would land in Franklin County Jail to face contempt of court citations.

Asked if future picture taking of court sessions would bring a citation, Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt said: "That is the only thing we could do."

Instead of issuing a citation for the March 4 incident, the court adopted Rule 29 to implement its canons of judicial ethics.

Canon 35 said photographs and radio or television broadcasts of court sessions "should not be permitted."

To make the canon clear, even to those who "choose to disregard it," the court adopted Rule 29 that reads:

"The photographing of a session of a court of this state or the broadcasting or televising of such sessions is prohibited, and any violation of this rule shall be considered a contempt of that court and punishable as such."

Weygandt said the rule applies to all courts of record in the state. It is up to the individual judges whether to cite violators for contempt, he added. Some judges, who have been allowing photographs that do not disturb court proceedings, may be reluctant to permit them in the face of Rule 29.

The chief justice explained that picture taking allowed in violation of Canon 35 and Rule 29 might jeopardize a case and open the way for the losing party to call for a reversal.

He said "any citizen" could prefer a contempt citation for violation of the picture ban if a judge failed to act. Such citations, he added, more likely would be brought by bar associations which have opposed any further relaxation of Canon 35.

Weygandt explained that there are different kinds of contempt. Contempt of court for failure to pay alimony, for example, carries a maximum fine of $500 and 10 days in jail.

But contempt in the presence of a court, such as picture taking, carries no limit to the amount of fine or the length of imprisonment that judges can impose.

Ohio court rules do not ban photographs before or after court sessions or during recesses.

Siebern Back

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Norm Siebern, star outfielder last year with the Denver Bears of the Class AAA American Assn., thinks he may make the grade the coming baseball season in the New York Yankee outfield.

The big slugger led the American Assn. in just about every offensive department last season. Siebern had two previous tries at making the Yankee club. His big difficulty was that he could not pull the ball sufficiently often to rightfield.

"I think I concentrated a little too much on pulling the last Yankee shot I had, and I wound up hitting 204," Siebern says. "I'm going to try not to do that again."

"I'm not going to be so concerned about pulling that I forget to hit the ball. I've always had good success as a hitter by hitting the ball where it's pitched — outside pitches to left field, inside pitches to right."

"I know all about the short porch in rightfield at Yankee Stadium. And medical reports indicate my injured shoulder and knee are as good as new again. I want that Yankee outfield job."

Ashville News Report

By Mrs. Art Deal Jr.

Charles Fraley, 682 E. Mound St., Circleville, received painful burns about the face and right wrist Tuesday at the Oliver Junk Yard, while attempting to put out a fire that was started with an acetylene torch.

He mistakenly threw a bucket of gasoline on the fire thinking it was water. This in turn caused an explosion. Fraley was treated at Dr. R. S. Hoslers' office. The Ashville Volunteer Fire Department answered the call.

The "Tulip Twist", a round and square dance, will be held in the school auditorium, April 11 from 9 to midnight. The dance will be sponsored by the sophomore class.

This year's Wesley Choir of Ohio University will embark on its tenth annual Holy Week Choir Tour. The Choir, composed of about 55 voices, will be touring southeastern Ohio on their four-day trip. They will be in Ashville on April 5 to present their concert at the Ashville Methodist Church beginning at 7:30 p. m. They will sing at the 6:30 a. m. Sunrise Service in the church on Easter morning.

The choir will sing nine concerts during the four days. There are evening services planned at Logan, Chesapeake and Ashville. During the daytime the choir will perform at Southwest High School near Rio Grande, Chesapeake High School, Chillicothe Veteran's Hospital and Huntington State Mental Hospital. There will be a concert over Channel 13 in Huntington on Friday afternoon.

The program is designed to present the Life of Christ in music. A narration by Dave Misicka, Mount Vernon, ties the music together. The theme of this year's program is "A Candle in the Wind."

Ohio Marine Gets Life Sentence

KINSTON, N. C. (AP) — Marine Pfc. Edward A. Keltner of Ashley, Ohio, has been sentenced to life in prison for raping Miss Shelby Waters, 18, of Kinston.

A Lenoir Superior Court jury recommended mercy Friday night, sparing the 22-year-old Camp Lejeune Marine from a possible death penalty. Because the crime can incur capital punishment, the state supreme court will review the sentence, passed Friday night by Judge W. J. Bundy.

Methodists List Wednesday Service

On Wednesday evening of Holy Week, the Rev. Charles D. Reed, of First Methodist Church, will use for the sermon the words of Jesus when he said: "Ye Call Me Lord and Master, and ye say well, for so I am." The scripture lesson will be read from a portion of the thirteenth chapter of the Gospel According to St. John.

Hymns for the service will include: "Sun of My Soul"; by John Keble; "Come Thou Fount of Every Blessing"; by Robert Robinson; "O For a Thousand Tongues to Sing"; by Charles Wesley; and "Softly and Tenderly", by Will Thompson.

The Junior Choir, under the direction of Richard A. Simons will sing, and will use for their anthem "Father in Heaven", by F. F. Fleming. Mrs. Darrell Carter will be at the organ.

Mirthful Days Dot 1958 Calendar

By M. E. BYRNE
Written for Central Press

COMEDY these days has become a rare commodity on the television screen. It has all but disappeared via the radio. As for magazine fiction, as far as this avid reader can determine, it simply no longer exists. And there certainly is nothing hilarious in current news, both here and abroad.

However, this is the year that you're going to laugh, man, laugh. At least, that's the decision of those people who keep busy designating all those extra special Days, Weeks and Months we dutiful Americans are expected to faithfully observe.

You'd better start doing a little pre-season practicing in chuckling and guffawing now, because before you know it, National Laugh Week will be upon us. This jocular observance is officially scheduled to run from April 7 to 13.

Hardly will the last snicker of National Laugh Week have died away on the evening breeze when — ha! ha! ha! — American Comedy Week (April 14 to 20) will archive for the preservation of old vaudeville wheezes, stale radio and television gags, and first editions of Joe Miller's Joke Book?

YOU'LL NOTE NO mention has been made so far of April Fool's Day—the paradise of practical jokers. It's too old-fashioned to merit a place in this treatise on manufactured modern mirth!

The Museum of American Comedy is also sponsoring Mother-in-Law Day. If you think this sort of comes under the heading of grim humor how about Father-in-Law Day, the brain child of those irrepressible pranksters, the National Association of Gag Writers? After the merry month of April, the 1958 schedule of Special Days, Weeks and Months shows a rather extended lull in organized grinning and guffawing, right through the warm, early summer months when, no doubt, it's figured folk will be having enough natural fun on their vacations they won't need to be told to be cheerful.

Comes August, though—those sultry dog days when most of us are back from seashore and mountain slope and sadly in need of something to be cheerful over—when, what do you think?, the good old Clown Club of America comes to our rescue!

The Clown Club, which, incidentally, is also headquartered in New Jersey (seems like the Skeeter State must be the most cheerful area in the Union) is sponsoring National Clown Week (Aug. 7-14). During Clown Week one is supposed to show appreciation of the efforts of the Merry Andrews of the Big Top.

Not since knee pants days have we regarded the antics of the gay pantaloon in false nose and tramp getup as irresistibly droll fellows but, come Aug. 7, if it's patriotic to do so, by golly, we'll give it a try!

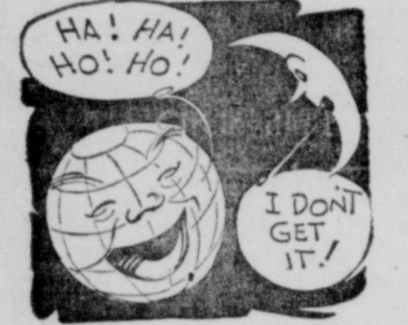

Just when a fellow's trying to scrape up some extra cash to bail the old benny out of hock because of the frigid winter days ahead along will come Pass the Laugh Week. This last season of jollity is scheduled for Oct. 19 to 25.

We don't rightly understand what Pass the Laugh Week is all about if it means the retelling of twice-heard jokes the proper way to celebrate this special period of manufactured mirth would seem to be the donning of a good sound-proof pair of ear muffs.

Well—have fun, kids.

Court's Picture-Taking Ban May Be Hard To Enforce

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Supreme Court has tightened security but deputies have little hope of preventing surreptitious picture taking.

For one thing, they don't know what the camera looks like that was used to take forbidden snapshots of the March 4 court session, later published in Cleveland.

For another, deputies feel it will be difficult to keep strict watch on even the few visitors to the state's highest court without missing calls from the bench. The seven judges often want law books, a refill of ever-present water tumblers and other errands.

Judges and their officers appear convinced that another attempt will be made to take pictures of sessions despite a newly fortified ban that virtually assures a fine or imprisonment, possibly both.

Marshal Ray Jones and his deputies, Albert Will and Edward Taas, said they have been alerted anew to catch picture takers if possible. Jones said cameramen caught violating the picture ban would land in Franklin County Jail to face contempt of court citations.

Asked if future picture taking of court sessions would bring a citation, Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant said: "That is the only thing we could do."

Instead of issuing a citation for the March 4 incident, the court adopted Rule 29 to implement its canons of judicial ethics.

Canon 35 said photographs and radio or television broadcasts of court sessions "should not be permitted."

To make the canon clear, even to those who "choose to disregard it," the court adopted Rule 29 that reads:

"The photographing of a session of a court of this state or the broadcasting or televising of such sessions is prohibited, and any violation of this rule shall be considered a contempt of that court and punishable as such."

Weygant said the rule applies to all courts of record in the state. It is up to the individual judges whether to cite violators for contempt, he added. Some judges, who have been allowing photographs that do not disturb court proceedings, may be reluctant to permit them in the face of Rule 29.

The chief justice explained that picture taking allowed in violation of Canon 35 and Rule 29 might jeopardize a case and open the way for the losing party to call for a reversal.

He said "any citizen" could prefer a contempt citation for violation of the picture ban if a judge failed to act. Such citations, he added, more likely would be brought by bar associations which have opposed any further relaxation of Canon 35.

Weygant explained that there are different kinds of contempt. Contempt of court for failure to pay alimony, for example, carries a maximum fine of $500 and 10 days in jail.

But contempt in the presence of a court, such as picture taking, carries no limit to the amount of fine or the length of imprisonment that judges can impose.

Ohio court rules do not ban photographs before or after court sessions or during recesses.
